Ducking Russia curbs will have consequences, warns US Dy NSA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

Foreign Secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla with US Dy NSA Daleep Singh

AMID Western nations' discomfiture over India's business-as-usual approach towards Russia, the US on Thursday warned that there will be consequences for countries attempting to "circumvent or backfill" sanctions against Moscow. Talking to reporters in New Delhi on Thursday, US deputy national security advisor for international economics Daleep Singh said that Washington would not like to see a "rapid" acceleration in India's imports from Russia including energy and other commodities.

"I come here in a spirit of friendship to explain the mechanisms of our sanctions, the importance of joining us, to express a shared resolve and to advance shared interests. And yes, there are consequences to countries that actively attempt to circumvent or backfill the sanctions," Singh said.

He, however, clarified that India's current import of Russian energy doesn't violate any of the American sanctions as the US had given exemption on the flow of energy from Russia. But he quickly added that Washington would like to see its allies and partners find ways to reduce their reliance on an "unreliable supplier".

Replying to a question, he said, "We are very keen for all countries, especially our allies and partners, not to create mechanisms that prop up the rouble, and those that attempt to undermine the dollar based financial system."

Nudging India to change its reverential approach towards Russia, Singh said it is foolish to expect Moscow to rush to New Delhi's defence in the event of China breaching the Line of Actual Control. Calling Russia "a junior partner of China", the US official said.

The US deputy NSA, who played a key role in designing American sanctions against Russia, is in New Delhi on a two-day visit in the backdrop of rising Western pressure on India to criticise Russia over its attack on Ukraine.

Rahul hails seer, says no place for hatred

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Tumakuru

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi interacts with seers, including Sri Siddalinga Swamiji, during his visit to the Siddaganga Mutt in Tumakuru on Thursday | EXPRESS

"AT a time when hatred is spreading across the country, the philosophy of 12th century revolutionary Basavanna preaching a casteless society is the need of the hour, and the job of the Siddaganga Mutt, which has been propagating the same, is commendable. We should remove hatred to shape a society of communal harmony," Congress leader Rahul Gandhi said at the Siddaganga Mutt here on Thursday.

He was speaking on the eve of the 115th birth anniversary of Sri Shivakumara Swamiji, just a few hours ahead of Union Home Minister Amit Shah's visit to take part in the mega event at the mutt on Friday. The visits have acquired their own significance.

"Basavanna has said that we are all one, we should live together, keeping away hatred over caste and religion. I congratulate the Siddaganga Mutt authorities for imparting the preachings of Basavanna and shaping the future of lakhs of children," he stated.

Hailing the contributions of Sri Shivakumara Swamiji, the Congress leader observed that society should tread the path the great saint has shown, to educate the youth and uplift the poor, for which he extended all help to the mutt.

AFSPA off parts of 3 North-East states

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

IN what is arguably the biggest relief in sections of the Northeast since decades, the Centre on Thursday announced its decision to withdraw the draconian Armed Forces (Special Powers) Act or AFSPA from parts of Assam, Nagaland and Manipur. In a statement, the Ministry of Home Affairs said the disturbed areas notification will be removed from 23 districts and partially from one district of Assam, 15 police station areas of six districts of Manipur and 15 police stations in seven districts of Nagaland from Friday.

The disturbed areas notification is currently applicable in three districts and two police station areas of one district of Arunachal Pradesh. The decision was made based on the recommendations of a committee the Centre had constituted and taking note of the improved security situation. It would be withdrawn in a phased manner.

Union Home Minister Amit Shah said the reduction in areas under AFSPA was because of of the improved security situation and fast-tracked development due to consistent efforts and several agreements to end insurgency and bring lasting peace in the Northeast by the Modi government.

The disturbed areas notification has been in force in entire Manipur (except Imphal municipality area) and Nagaland since 2004 and 1995 respectively. It has been in force in the whole of Assam since 1990.

Shaw expresses concern over communal rift

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

BIOCON chief Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw on Thursday expressed concern over recent incidents of communal tension in Karnataka, saying they could impact the state's image globally.

Taking to Twitter, Shaw said Karnataka has always forged inclusive economic development and the government must not allow such communal exclusion. "If IT/BT became communal, it would destroy our global leadership. @BSBommai please resolve this growing religious divide," she tweeted.

Responding to Shaw's concerns, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai appealed to people to maintain law and order and peace. "Karnataka is known for peace and progress, and every one should observe restraint and see to it that it is not affected," he added.

BBMP budget lays stress on tax collection

To focus on ward-wise development, under categories like potholes and roads

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a late-night development, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike officials uploaded the budget of the city corporation on the Palike website. It was shared with the public through a social media announcement at 11.24 pm.

The budget outlay for the year 2022-23 has been set at Rs 10,48,428.08 lakh, compared to Rs 88,048.13 lakh in 2021-22. The opening balance shown by the BBMP finance section is Rs 558 lakh, compared to Rs 352 lakh in 2021-22. Payments are shown to be Rs 10,48,093.45 lakh.

A senior BBMP official, seeking anonymity, told TNIE that the month-long budget session by the state government had delayed the Bengaluru city budget presentation by 20 days. There was also a delay because of resistance from a few ministers living in the city, on the tax collection model.

According to officials, tax collection and revenue utilisation has been divided ward-wise for ward development. Spending has been defined based on categories like Rs 50 lakh for potholes, 50 per cent for major roads, and special percentages for solid waste management, storm water drains and footpaths.

The budget lays stress on property tax collection, and a target of Rs 1,500 crore as a minimum has been set. "For the first time, BBMP has decided to club property tax collection and identification of large houses with Bescom bills, as all homes use electricity. Also penalties will be imposed on those underpaying property tax and showing improper utilisation (like stating property is residential but utilizing it for commercial purpose).

BBMP Administrator Rakesh Singh told TNIE that the budget was released late as it was finalised at the end of the day, on the last day of the financial year.

HC summons Bescom MD over delay in shifting transformers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday summoned the Managing Director of Bangalore Electricity Supply Company (Bescom) over delay in shifting of transformers from footpaths in the city.

A division bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raju Awasthi and Justice S R Krishna Kumar passed the order after hearing a public interest litigation filed by Wing Commander G B Athri (retired) in 2020 with regard the shifting of transformers.

"Inspite of sufficient time granted by this court, the shifting of transformers from footpaths have not yet started. The delay in shifting of transformers affects the public at large, as all these are installed on footpaths which puts the public at risk. Let the Managing Director of Bescom appear before the court to explain the reasons for not getting the transformers shifted expeditiously," the court said in the order while adjourning the hearing to next week.

Before this, the counsel of Bescom submitted that the work order was issued on March 17, 2022, with 18 months allotted to shift more than 5,245 transformers from footpaths.

"The government is working on appointing IAS officers at top posts and KAS officials at as joint commissioners. So going by this, Khan was not a KAS officer and he was holding the post of joint commissioner, SWM. This is being stressed upon, irrespective whether the person posted or shunted is deserving or not," said an official.

Khan told TNIE that he wanted to go back as he was keen on being promoted as Managing Director of the department. "I had sought a transfer to my parent department. I am 56 years old and I am keen to retire from the same department as well."

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

01st April: It's time to remind you that astrology is not about doing what we're told - or what the stars tell us - but about working out the best way forward. It's also about doing what's best for everyone, rather than just for us. After all, the theory runs, if everyone else is happy and prosperous, the better off we will be.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Moon is indicating that you may take some time off. Or perhaps, what it really means is that you're ready for a break in your routine. If you're planning to stay in, go out, and if you're going out you might decide to stay in! And, if a new romance has been mooted, you'll be clicking into gear towards the end of the week.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Various planets swanning around in ambitious regions of your solar chart urge you to forget about doubts, inadequacies and insecurities that have dogged your steps for too long. Concentrate now on building up your long-term reputation and see to it that people who once ignored you have good reason to respect you.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You may have been putting your head before your heart, but right now the trend seems to be to put heart first, head second. If you're making plans at work, aim for options which make a clean break with the past, for you don't want lingering problems to drag on.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
The financial situation should be quite buoyant but, as so often happens, once you begin to feel more prosperous, you spend more and so end up out of pocket. Try to be a little more imaginative about future plans, and don't let others take you for a ride.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
All your marvellous intuitions should be telling you that now is the moment to make a bid for ultimate success. The Moon is on your side, and the worst risk you run is a spot of embarrassment. Still, it could be worse. And you'll get over it before long!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Start to wind down. Strangely enough, your chart is beginning to look decidedly more serious, not to mention more organised, efficient and jolly worthwhile. You should evade the occasional rumour or suspicion and avoid giving the impression that you've got something to hide.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Powerful social stars mean that teamwork is vital if you want to complete important tasks on schedule. This is no time to be a loner, even if you have had enough of other people's time-wasting and complaints. If partners are despondent, you may have to play the cheer-leader.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Please consider taking on more responsibilities at work, and realise that your interests will only be served if you, in turn, look after others. Don't rise to provocation, but do tackle other people at the right moment, when they are receptive to your opinions and arguments.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You are often accused of having too many irons in the fire - a typical complaint! However, from this week onwards you should consider slimming down your financial commitments, holding on only to what is necessary. Think about how you can make the space for fresh good fortune to come in.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
This is the last day in a sequence of planetary aspects which have raised the romantic temperature. This doesn't mean that you'll have no relationships left, just that your needs are moving on. Even if there is still just the merest emotional spark left, you may do your best to fan it into a flame.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
If you've been doing anything you ought not to have done, get your story ready! Your best tack for the rest of the month is to try and show people just how funny the situation is, taking their attention away from anything that may have gone wrong in recent weeks!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You should think fast, but don't be seduced into imagining that the facts are everything. You also need to do right by other people. In love and at work your goal should be to put over your ideas in as poetic a way as possible. You don't just have to tell other people what you want - you also have to get them to agree with you!

'One Health' holistic plan to link human, animal health

Centralised lab will keep track of diseases; Study of wet markets planned

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

THE city civic body has kickstarted the concept of 'One Health', a multi-sectoral collaboration which is being stressed on by the World Health Organisation to tackle intricate global health problems affecting people, animals and ecosystems. A detailed plan of action has been drawn up to interlink animal health, human health and environmental health, with collaboration between various departments and NGOs. Also, a Metropolitan Health Surveillance Unit, which will be a centralised nodal diagnostic lab to take care of all surveillance activities, will soon be set up in Bommanahalli.

Dr K V Thrilok Chandra, Special Commissioner, BBMP (Health) told TNIE that 'One Health' plan has already been kickstarted in BBMP limits. "Apart from human health, we are also concentrating on animal health, beginning with canine population. We are ensuring there is aggressive rabies vaccination drive and neutering of dogs through Animal Birth Control programme under the Rabies Prevention and Control Programme.

Also, wet markets in the city have been identified and we are ensuring a detailed analysis of these markets is done, and cleanliness is maintained. The animal husbandry division of the BBMP, veterinary colleges and research centres will be monitoring this," he said.

Meanwhile, as part of environmental surveillance, the commissioner said that surveillance has been augmented not just to identify SARS-CoV-2, but also other diseases. According to officials, the surveillance unit will help promote integrated disease surveillance and research work.

Key areas for the centre will be studies on environmental change, quality and capacity building. It will also work on research for vaccines, medicines and diagnostic kits.

However, Dr Jacob John, renowned virologist from CMC Vellore, said 'One Health' is a decade-old good concept. Implementation requires organised management of human infectious diseases and animal infectious diseases. "We don't have either," he remarked. "India is way behind other countries. We don't even have verifiable data, we have no policy to control even diseases like cholera, typhoid fever on the human health side. And do we know from where dogs are getting rabies?"

WHAT IS ONE HEALTH?

Animal health, human health and environmental health are intrinsically intertwined and interdependent. The health of one affects the health of all. 'One Health' is a collaborative global programme to understand and manage risks for planetary health and encourage a more sustainable ecosystem balance.

ORAL CANCER ON THE RISE AMONG THE YOUNG

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

SUJATA (32), who does not consume tobacco or alcohol, was admitted to hospital for oral cancer treatment. Oncologists say she is not the only such case. Of every 100 cases, 40 are oral cancer patients, and in 75 per cent of the cases, the disease is in an advanced stage.

Oncologists state that detection is very poor, and often, this is because these cases are passed off as dental problems. It is only when the health condition deteriorates, that patients come in for cancer treatment. April being 'Oral Cancer Awareness Month', oncologists are working to tie-up with dentists and dental colleges for early detection, and creating awareness. They are also demanding that government and medical institutions stress on head and neck cancer, as there is a dearth of specialists, and cases are on the rise.

"It is a shocking trend that patients in the 20-30 age group are affected with oral cancer. Tobacco and alcohol consumption is the prime cause, as addiction among youth today is from as early as 15-16 years of age. What is more worrisome is that those who don't smoke or consume alcohol are getting affected. This is because of lifestyle, poor oral hygiene, diabetes and extensive usage of immuno-suppressive medicines. Cases are not just rising in rural areas, but urban areas too," Dr Narayana Subramaniam, Consultant and Head, Head and Neck Surgical Oncology, Shankara Hospital, told TNIE.

Examine your mouth

- Look at lips and gums for patches, shaky, thick lumps
- Sores on tongue
- Fold your lips and check
- Check cheek for patches, lumps
- Check lower lip
- Check hard palate
- Tongue and sides of tongue
- Floor of the mouth

Oncologists point out that it is more worrisome as 80 per cent of such patients are not treated as cancer patients at dedicated hospitals. Patients are also worried about finances, as oral cancer is not covered by many health insurance schemes, assuming it to be only because of tobacco. Studies are also being done to ascertain the co-relation between cosmetic dental treatment and junk food items on oral cancer.

Dr C Ramachandra, Director, Kidwai Memorial Institute of Oncology, pointed out that human papillomavirus, 16 and 18 variety, is also a cause of oral cancer. This spreads just like cervical cancer. Submucous fibrosis is also a prime reason.

Panel to study politically backward classes in state

Reservation for OBCs will be fixed after report on empirical data; state readies for elections to local bodies

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CM Basavaraj Bommai and CLP leader Siddaramaiah share a light moment during the all-party meeting at Vidhana Soudha in Bengaluru on Thursday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

THE Karnataka government will constitute a commission to identify and study politically backward classes and give it a time-frame to submit a report. Once the report is submitted, the government will take legal action, Law Minister JC Madhuswamy said.

An all-party meeting was convened to discuss issues related to the provision of reservation to backward classes and for local bodies elections, including Taluk and Zilla Panchayat polls. Speaking to reporters after the meeting, Madhuswamy said the recent judgment in a case related to the Maharashtra government, the Supreme Court had directed that specific political backwardness and empirical data is mandatory to give reservation to OBCs in local bodies elections. That is the reason for constituting the commission, he said. Karnataka is due to go for polls with reservation of president and vice-president of municipalities, and also Zilla and Taluk Panchayat polls. "Our government is not willing to conduct polls without reservation. We want to give priority to backward class people. We are constituting a commission to identify backward classes and give them terms of reference, including collecting empirical data. Once we get the data or report, we want to implement it as per law. All these years we mentioned backwardness in education and job reservation. Since the Supreme Court is stressing on it, there is a need to check if these sections are politically backward or not. Once it is established, reservation can be provided as per the Supreme Court order," he said.

Speaking on the amendment that has given power to states to fix reservation, he said the State government is looking at the possibility of crossing 50 per cent, and providing political reservation for backward classes. At present, there is 18 per cent reservation for Schedule Caste and Schedule Tribes in education and jobs, and 24.1 per cent reservation in various welfare schemes.

"If we get to know that these people have to be given reservation of 24.1 per cent, we will be left with hardly 25 per cent out of 50 per cent threshold, which might be difficult for us to accommodate. So we have sought the opinion of the Advocate-General and when we get both these reports, we will fix reservation for constituencies. If necessary, we will file an affidavit in the Supreme Court," he said.

Amid snap poll talks, Rahul to discuss election strategy with Team KPCC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AMID speculation about early elections in Karnataka, senior Congress leader Rahul Gandhi will hold back-to-back meetings with the state party leaders on Friday. On Thursday evening, Rahul visited the Siddaganga Mutt in Tumakuru on the eve of the 115th birth anniversary of Sri Shivakumara Swamiji.

"The party strategy for the Assembly polls will be discussed during the meeting as there is a possibility of early elections in the state," sources in the Congress said. "All political issues in the state, including Congress strategy to counter the BJP's attempts to take up communally sensitive issues ahead of elections will be discussed during the meetings," sources said and added that the BJP is trying to bring up communal issues to divert attention from real issues like price rise.

The Wayanad MP is holding two meetings with the leaders at the party-state office- one with senior leaders and a second meeting with heads of all frontal organisations in the party. Senior leaders, including Opposition Leader in Rajya Sabha Mallikarjuna Kharge, former CM Siddaramaiah, KPCC chief DK Shivakumar and other senior leaders will attend the meetings.

The party's digital membership drive too will come up for discussion during the meeting. Sources in the party claimed that they have enrolled over 50 lakh members during the drive.

In February, Rahul had held discussions with the state leaders in New Delhi, when the Congress leaders were in a bit of a fix over taking up the hijab row, while they had attacked the government over RDPR Minister KS Eshwarappa's remarks over hoisting a saffron flag at Red Fort.

While some senior leaders, including Siddaramaiah, took a firm stand most senior leaders were hesitant to come out in support of the minority community, fearing backlash from majority community voters.

Cong slams BJP over fuel prices

BENGALURU : As part of the party's nationwide protest against soaring fuel prices, senior Congress leaders in the state on Thursday staged a protest in Bengaluru. The Congress leaders accused the Union Government of increasing the fuel price 10 times in the last 11 days. KPCC president DK Shivakumar said the increase in fuel prices is impacting all sections of society. People are waiting for an opportunity to teach a lesson to the BJP and bring the Congress back to power, he said. Congress leaders, including the AICC General Secretary in-charge of Karnataka Randeep Singh Surjewala, former Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and other senior leaders took part in the protest. The daily dose of petrol-diesel price hike is unbearable, Surjewala thundered.

'BJP leaders to tour state after Shah visit'

THE committee will discuss the strategy to strengthen the party organization from the booth level and also emulate similar strategies that help the party take the programmes to the doorstep of people.

It is also learnt that the Chief Minister may also seek Amit Shah's advice on long-pending cabinet expansion to fill a few ministerial berths that are vacant.

It is learned that the majority of the leaders and cadres are in an upbeat mood and are in favor of early elections and wanted to take advantage of the favorable momentum from the BJP's victory in four states, including the high-voltage Uttar Pradesh, which made the party claim that there was an incumbent factor.

The BJP locked with the opposition Congress over the hijab row for more than a month and knowing the public sentiment, feels that issues like including texts from the Bhagwad Gita in school syllabus will help them reap rich dividends.

However, former Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa said they will have a clear picture after Shah's visit and are expecting that the party will start the process for poll preparations.

Asserting that the BJP will continue in power after the next Assembly elections in the state, Yeddiyurappa said there are no plans for advanced election in the state. BJP leaders will tour the state after Shah's visit, he added.

Nadda's K'taka visit to draw roadmap for BJP's 'Mission 2023'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

JUST two weeks after Home Minister Amit Shah's visit to Karnataka, BJP national president JC Nadda will be in the state on April 16 and 17 to discuss the party's strategy for the 2023 Assembly elections.

Speaking to the media, BJP national general secretary CT Ravi said Nadda will preside over the party's state executive committee special meeting to be held in Vijayanagara district.

> Roadmap for the Assembly elections to be held in around a year will be discussed in the executive committee meeting
>
> CT Ravi, BJP general secretary

Nadda will arrive on April 16 evening and he will take part in the executive meeting to be held on April 17. "Road map for the elections to be held in around a year will be discussed in the executive committee meeting," Ravi said and added that Nadda will guide the state leaders on measures to be taken to strengthen the organization and involve the party workers in service activities.

On Friday evening, Amit Shah will hold a meeting with state party leaders to discuss various issues related to strengthening the party and taking the government programmes to people.

Meanwhile, responding to a question on controversy over some right-wing organisations asking Hindus not to buy halal meat, Ravi defended his "economic jihad" remarks and also the right-wing organisations. "What is halal? Is it a quality certificate? Who gives it? If someone tells me that it is a quality and purity certificate, I have no objection and also ask people not to go against halal," he said and added that "Halal is okay in Pakistan and not India. We have a Constitution."

Ravi clarified that they are not asking for a ban on halal meat, but want society to debate it. He accused that the halal practice was started to ensure that business remains in the hands of Muslim businessmen. "When Muslims will not take non-halal meat, what is wrong in Hindu organizations asking people not buy halal meat?" Ravi responded to a question if the BJP is trying to communalise the issues ahead of elections.

Relationship with Mutt is not new: MP

"IT is a matter of great joy that a leader of eminence and youth icon has come here. Indira Gandhi had visited the mutt, which was momentous, and Rahul's visit is also momentous," remarked Sri Siddalinga Swamiji, the head of the mutt, while appreciating Rahul's wish for a hatred-free society. Adopting a diplomatic stance, the prominent Lingayat religious institution is giving equal footing to both national parties — BJP and Congress.

Earlier, Rahul's visit was restricted to paying a visit to the 'gadduge', the divine tomb of the Swamiji, but was extended with him addressing thousands of children of the mutt during an evening prayer," remarked a Congress Lingayat leader.

The occasion helped the mutt and Gandhis reiterate their long-term relationship. "Our relationship with the mutt is not new, my grandmother, mother and I have visited the mutt in the past," recalled Rahul, which Sri Siddalinga Swamiji also stressed in his speech later. "Sonia Gandhi had dropped her security personnel from her car and picked me up to go to the venue, along with Sri Shivakumara Swamiji, to take part in his 105th birthday celebrations," he said, turning nostalgic. Rahul and the Swamiji posed for a photograph along with the children of the mutt. Rahul had snacks and was also felicitated.

Congress leaders D K Shivakumar, Siddaramaiah, B K Hariprasad, M B Patil, Eshwar Khandre, Dhruvanarayana and others put up an united front throughout the visit.

Those not respecting Constitution should be taught a lesson, says Araga

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Koppal

AMID the raging halal and hijab controversies, Home Minister Araga Jnanendra has said that those who do not respect the Constitution and honour court verdicts should be taught a lesson.

The Minister's comment came as a section of Muslims had called for a statewide bandh against the Karnataka High Court verdict on hijab, which dismissed the petition of Muslim girl students from Udupi Government Girls' PU College, who wanted hijab to be allowed along with uniform in classrooms.

He said the government has a limited role to play on the issue pertaining to halal, which is left to the wisdom of people. Jnanendra said the 'Boycott halal food' campaign is not a law and order situation but something related to faith and sentiments of people.

Home Minister Araga Jnanendra at the passing out parade of police recruits at Munirabad near Koppal on Thursday

He was participating in the passing out parade of KSRP and IRB police recruits at India Reserve Battalion in Munirabad near Koppal on Thursday.

"There are many people in the state who preach. While one section preaches people to be communal, others preach secularism. Whether these contradictory preachings could be termed as any religion?" he sought to know.

"Secularism is intrinsic with people of Karnataka and let preachers dare and educate people to comply with the law of the land. Politicians are involved in appeasement of people for votes," he rued.

Jnanendra wondered as to why the BJP was blamed by some for the anti-Halal campaign, which is related to faith and sentiments and individual choices.

The Minister also blamed intellectuals for lecturing only the Hindus and not the others. "A day after Ugadi, Hindus celebrate 'Hosa Todaku' and cook and eat meat. VHP and Bajrang Dal activists are campaigning and asking people not to eat halal meat. They are also causing confusion in this regard," he added.

Referring to 60 intellectuals writing to the Chief Minister, he termed none of them intelligent enough.

CM: Everyone should show restraint

"WHEN social issues arise, there is a possibility for us to discuss and resolve it. So before going public, everyone should observe restraint," the CM added. Bommai also said that several issues have come up for discussion in the public domain in the state. "Everyone should cooperate to maintain peace and order," he added. He told reporters that the issue of school uniforms has been resolved.

Shaw said, "Unfortunately, vested interests are hijacking the issue to political parties. I am confident our CM will resolve the matter peacefully. I am a proud Kannadiga and don't want to see these incidents detract from economic progress..." Later, Shaw said she agreed with Bommai for calling upon "all sections of society to observe restraint before going public on social issues , as they can be resolved through discussions."

Court directs police to probe sedition charges against KSE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVIVE
@ Shivamogga

A special court directed Doddapete police in Shivamogga district to investigate a complaint against Karnataka Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Minister K S Eshwarappa for sedition and promoting enmity between different groups.

The special court ordered trial against sitting as well as former MLAs and MPs, and came on a private complaint filed by Riyaz Ahamed, a Shivamogga resident and Peace Organisation member. Ahamed had approached Doddapete police and higher authorities with his complaint, which was not acted upon. So he approached the special court with a private complaint. Ahamed alleged that after the murder of Hindu activist Harsha on February 20 this year, Eshwarappa and BJP leader Channabasappa started publicly stating that the murder was a result of political and religious causes, even before police could start investigations.

This was done with the intention of creating enmity between Hindus and Muslims and resulted in rioting on February 21. Ahamed alleged that Eshwarappa's actions amounted to causing disharmony and outraging religious feelings.

Lawyers send legal notice to Nagesh on teachers' suspension

BENGALURU: The All India Lawyers Association for Justice has slapped a legal notice on Education Minister BC Nagesh, for the suspension of seven teachers who allowed students to write exams wearing the hijab. "It has been reported that in Gadag, seven teachers were suspended on March 29 for allowing students wearing the hijab to attend their SSLC exams. In fact, the deputy director of public instruction is reported as having stated that the teachers had allowed students to wear the hijab while writing exams on Monday, which was a violation of the high court order. This is a misinterpretation of the government order as well as the order of the Karnataka HC, which has caused great prejudice to minor Muslim girls seeking to pursue their fundamental right to education... We call upon you to withdraw your statements, for they fall foul of the HC judgment..." the notice read. Advocate Maitreyi Krishnan, a signatory of the notice, pointed out that Nagesh's statement that "students wearing hijab or any other religious attire will not be allowed inside the examination hall. They can come to campus wearing the hijab but need to remove it before entering the hall" runs contrary to the government circular dated March 25, which states that uniforms in schools fixed either by the government or private schools are to be worn by the students.

BJP MLC to govt: Act against those wielding extra-Constitutional powers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi, Bengaluru

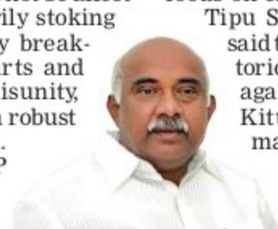
BJP MLC H Vishwanath on Thursday said some organisations and individuals have assumed extra-Constitutional powers in the state. Addressing the media, the senior legislator said the ruling BJP government in Karnataka should not be a silent spectator to such individuals and organisations and instead take a firm stand against them.

Vishwanath said the Karnataka government is not a government of VHP, Bajrang Dal or RSS, but a government of the BJP. "Who is Kalladka Prabhakar Bhat to issue any statement?" he asked, hitting out at the former over his recent remarks on the National flag, halal and Muslim vendors being prohibited from doing business during temple fairs. "This communalisation is not good and the government should intervene," he thundered.

"The government needs to ensure happiness, peace and contentment. People's hearts and minds should not be affected by unnecessarily stoking controversies. By breaking people's hearts and through acts of disunity, we cannot build a robust nation," he added.

He said the BJP in the state did not get a majority in the last election and it came to power with the help of JDS and Congress MLAs, including him. "We too have a share in this government coming to power. Remember 17 of us joined the BJP to help it form the government," he recalled.

On the recent row over the State Government proposing to revise school textbooks with a focus on chapters that glorify Tipu Sultan, Vishwanath said the former was a historical figure who fought against the British, like Kittur Rani Channamma. "Nobody should meddle with history," he opined.



The Kerala High Court on Thursday reserved its order on actor Dileep's petition seeking to quash the FIR against him in the conspiracy to murder officers probing the 2017 actor assault case. In the petition, Dileep sought a CBI probe if the FIR couldn't be quashed. However, the state government said investigation by the Central agency was not necessary

UPHOLDS HC ORDER

SC: Vanniyar quota unconstitutional

10.5% special reservation discriminatory

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi/Chennai

THE Supreme Court on Thursday upheld the Madras High Court order declaring 10.5 per cent internal reservation for Vanniakula Kshatriyas as unconstitutional and dismissed a slew of petitions filed against the HC order.

"...We are of the opinion that there is no substantial basis for classifying the Vanniakula Kshatriyas into one group to be treated differentially from the remaining 115 communities within the MBCs and DNCs, and therefore, the 2021 Act is in violation of Articles 14, 15 and 16," said the order passed by a bench of Justices L. Nageswara Rao and BR Gavai. "We make it clear that the aforesaid observations do not prevent the State, if it so decides, from undertaking suitable exercises for collecting pertinent, contemporaneous data to determine how demands for internal reservation within the backward classes can be justly addressed," the order said.

Reacting to the judgment, Water Resources Minister Durai Murugan said TN government will consult legal experts on the next course of action. Blaming the previous AIADMK regime for bringing in the quota law in a hasty manner without any data to back it, the minister recalled the successful legislations brought by the DMK to provide internal reservations to Arunthathiyars and Muslims.

In fact, six of the seven objections raised by the HC against the reservation have been removed by the SC, Ramadoss said. "The verdict has made it clear separate reservations can be given to Vannaiyars by getting a report from the Tamil Nadu Backward Classes Commission. CM MK Stalin should initiate steps for this," Ramadoss said. The PMK has convened an emergency meeting of its executive committee in Chennai on April 2 to discuss the next court of action.

The SC in its verdict said choosing a particular caste and providing a special reservation of 10.5 per cent out of the 20 per cent to such caste is discriminatory in the absence of any sound differentiation from communities that are similarly placed and were, therefore, grouped together for the purposes of receiving the benefits of 20 per cent reservation.

TN GOVT TO CONSULT LEGAL EXPERTS

Chennai: Reacting to the quashing of the 10.5 per cent reservation for the Vanniyar community by the Supreme Court, Water Resources Minister Durai Murugan on Thursday said that the State government will be consulting legal experts on the next course of action to be taken in this regard. He said the Tamil Nadu government had engaged senior lawyers to argue this case in the Apex Court but despite that, the court had upheld the verdict of the Madras HC. Charging that the SC had quashed this reservation since the previous AIADMK regime brought in this reservation in a hasty manner without providing any basic data to substantiate, Durai Murugan, in a statement here, said in the past, the DMK government had ensured internal reservations for Arunthathiyar community and Muslims since the legislation in this regard were enacted based on evidence.

Tamil Nadu CM Stalin meets PM Narendra Modi in Delhi on Thursday

Stalin seeks nod to send aid to SL Tamils

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

TAMIL Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin on Thursday met Prime Minister Narendra Modi in Delhi and sought the Centre's nod for Tamil Nadu to provide humanitarian aid to Sri Lankan Tamils in the wake of economic crisis in the neighbouring country. The Chief Minister handed over a 14-point charter of demands to the PM during his 30-minute meeting.

"Tamil Nadu is willing to provide essential commodities and life-saving medicines to Tamils living in northern and eastern parts of Sri Lanka and Colombo and those working in plantations as a life-saving measure and help them, particularwomen and children,"the CM said in the memorandum.

Stalin said many Lankan Tamils are coming to Tamil Nadu by sea due to the crisis. "Recently, 16 people reached Tamil Nadu shores. They have been given shelter at the permanent transit camp for Sri Lankan Tamils at Mandapam in Ramanathapuram district," he said. "My meeting with the PM and Union Ministers Amit Shah, Nitin Gadkari and Rajnath Singh was satisfactory. The PM gave a patient hearing and assured me of appropriate action on the demands," the CM told reporters at the Tamil Nadu House.

Stalin said during his meeting with the PM and Union Home Minister he had pointed out that though the State had passed a Bill seeking exemption from NEET for the second time, TN Governor has not forwarded it to the President so far and sought appropriate action on the Bill.

HC: TTD Board members should have clean record

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Vijayawada

PEOPLE with criminal records should not be appointed to the Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams (TTD) Board, the High Court of Andhra Pradesh observed on Thursday.

Taking strong exception to the appointment of persons with criminal antecedents as Board members, the court said it would cancel such appointments.

The observation was made by a division bench of Chief Justice Prashant Kumar Mishra and Justice M Satyanarayana Murthy while hearing a petition by BJP leader G Bhanu Prakash Reddy and others challenging the appointment of such people.

Rejecting TTD senior counsel SS Prasad's argument that all those appointed to the Board were eligible, the court also directed the government not to hurt the sentiments of the devotees. Petitioner's counsel N Aswini Kumar had urged the court to declare those with criminal records as ineligible to be appointed as TTD Board members. The bench also heard a petition challenging the appointment of special invitees to the Board. Government pleader Satya Shivaji and TTD counsel said the government has brought in an ordinance for appointment of special invitees to the Board and that the Governor's assent for the same has been awaited.

The bench said it would hear all the petitions challenging the appointment of special invitees in a hearing on April 19.

THOUSANDS of Kannadigas who were on a pilgrimage to Srisailam in Andhra Pradesh, became victims of violence that broke out over a petty issue on Wednesday midnight at a tea shop. Hundreds of cars and passenger vehicles with Karnataka number plates were damaged, and two men were injured.

An altercation between a local youth and a Kannadiga over drinking water blew up into a huge issue around 2am Thursday. In what appeared to be an organised attack, a mob threw stones at vehicles from Karnataka and in the melee, Srisaila Varimath from Bagalkot sustained a severe head injury, while Gopal Rudrappa of Hungund taluk suffered a minor injury. Both were shifted to hospital for treatment and are said to be out of danger. Thousands of devotees from Belagavi, Vijayapura, Bagalkot, Gadag, Haveri, Dharwad and other districts of North Karnataka had visited Srisailam on the occasion of Ugadi.

A 35-year-old lorry driver, who sent a video on WhatsApp to his colleagues demanding to pay Rs 30,000 within 30 minutes, ended his life by hanging himself. The incident took place in Sanjeevini Nagar in Govindaraja Nagar police station limits on Wednesday night.

The deceased has been identified as Kiran Kumar, who hails from Tumakuru. He was working as a lorry driver for a logistics firm.

Police said Kumar recorded a video and sent it to three of his colleagues identified as Manjanna, Shivanna, and Manu at around 4 pm. In the video he demanded Rs 30,000 within 30 minutes and threatened that he would take his life if the money is not paid. On seeing the message, the colleagues reportedly tried to contact him but Kumar did not answer the calls.

"As the money was not transferred, Kumar went to his uncle's house in Sanjeevini Nagar at around 9 pm. He allegedly hung himself in a room and the incident came to light after a while," the police said.

Based on a preliminary probe, the police have booked Manjanna, Shivanna, and Manu for abetting suicide. " It is said that Kumar was frustrated as he was not paid the salary. However, we are yet to question the trio to know the exact reason," the police added.

TRADE UNION CLOUD OVER KERALA'S GROWTH DREAMS

The financial year beginning today will be celebrated as 'Entrepreneurship Year' in Kerala. An ambitious plan to create one lakh micro, small and medium enterprises (MSME) in the state before the end of March 2023 was unveiled by Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan on Wednesday. The industries department has prepared a plan connecting all villages to ensure that new ventures are launched in every nook and corner. To guide new investors, MSME clinics have started functioning in all districts. For ensuring capital flow, the government has initiated discussions with the state-level bankers' committee. On its part, the government will pump in ₹120 crore as subsidies and infrastructure costs. The launch of the Entrepreneurship Year also witnessed an announcement by the chief minister that the government plans to create around 40 lakh jobs, besides attracting ₹10,000 crore worth of investment in the next four years.

The initiative and the government's intention deserve appreciation. Ironically, all these announcements were made on the day after the conclusion of the 48-hour general strike by joint trade unions. Unlike other parts of the country, life was paralysed for two days in Kerala. The strike was marked by incidents of violence. All industrial parks in the state remained shut and there was no public transport. What made the protest in Kerala distinct was the wholehearted support extended by the ruling Left front. Despite the Kerala High Court issuing orders, government employees didn't report for work. The police remained mute spectators when striking unionists blocked the movement of vehicles and attacked people. The images of the archaic protest staged by trade unions have certainly cast a cloud of misgivings on the attempts to hard-sell Kerala as an 'investment-friendly' destination. Trade union militancy and bandhs have siphoned off decades from Kerala's growth path. The Pinarayi Vijayan government has shown resolve in addressing such issues and improving the ease of doing business. But, the lack of proactive steps during the general strike has rekindled doubts about the genuineness of the tall claims made by the government. The Left must mend its ways. The Entrepreneurship Year is the best opportunity for the government to set a new agenda and reinvent Kerala's image.

PADDY PROCUREMENT WOES IN TELANGANA

The Telangana government now has an albatross around its neck. As rabi harvesting is set to begin in a few days, paddy will be piling up with the farmers. This time's rabi yields are expected to be about 70 lakh tonnes. Till last year, the state used to procure all rabi paddy and hand it over to the mills for conversion into parboiled rice, which the FCI used to procure. But from this year, the Centre does not want to procure parboiled rice milled from rabi paddy as the demand for this variety has diminished over the years. The problem is fast acquiring political overtones with KCR and the BJP going for each other's jugular and Rahul Gandhi throwing his oar in. The Telangana government's problem is its own making as it has followed the tradition of procuring the paddy by making the down payment to farmers and then offering it to FCI after conversion into parboiled rice. All went well with this arrangement till last year, when the Centre began tightening the screws on procuring parboiled rice. Last year, the state made the Centre procure parboiled rice with great difficulty. The Union regime finally agreed to the procurement only after extracting a written undertaking that the state would not offer it in future.

Months rolled by and now the state is caught on the horns of a Hamletian dilemma: whether or not to procure paddy. If it does, how can it dispose of the paddy? If it does not, how can it douse the flames of farmers' resentment? Pushed to a corner, KCR, blaming the Centre for the mess, is demanding that FCI should procure paddy directly from farmers but no one in Delhi is listening to him. One way out is to procure paddy from farmers and sell it through e-trading. The other options include encouraging the private sector to step in and export parboiled rice. The state would also do well by paying attention to the Centre's advice of coming out with a foolproof ethanol policy to use broken rice, a byproduct of milling of rabi paddy without boiling, as raw material for manufacturing ethanol, the future source of clean energy.

While the generalisation of the five poll results are understandable, one should realise that each were fought and won on different issues and using varied strategies

DECODING THE ELECTION RESULTS OF MANIPUR

PRADIP PHANJOUBAM

Editor of Imphal Review of Arts and Politics

SOUMYADIP SINHA

There is an understandable tendency among analysts to generalise the results of recent elections in five states as a forecast for a sweep of the 2024 parliamentary election by the Bharatiya Janata Party. While this assumption appears natural, there are reasons for the winners not to be complacent and those who lost not to despair, for each of the five elections were fought and won on different issues and by varied strategies. At least this is stark in the case of Manipur where the BJP emerged with a clear but thin majority of 32 in a house of 60.

The average number of voters in each of Manipur's 60 constituencies is about 35,000 and the average winning margin is generally 3,000 to 6,000 votes depending on whether the contest is a straight fight or multi-cornered. This time, however, 22 of the victories had margins of less than 1,000 votes and 12 of these were of BJP candidates.

Furthermore, nine victories were by margins of less than 500 votes and of these, eight were of the BJP. In one constituency, Wabagai, Kakching district, the BJP candidate beat his Congress rival by just 50 votes. In Lamlai constituency, Imphal East, the BJP nipped Janata Dal (United) by 121 votes and in Lamsang, Imphal West, the BJP trailed National People's Party all the way but surged ahead when postal ballots were counted to win by 400 votes. But this is first past the post system, where a victory by one vote is as good as by several thousands. However, what is clear is, there is nothing in this result to say the winners have eliminated all serious future electoral challenges.

The BJP probably would have done better if not for the exodus of many of its leaders and their workers ahead of the elections when the Congress defectors were preferred over them for party tickets. It remains to be seen if the party is able to reconcile with the rebels and reconsolidate its base before 2024.

If the BJP suffered and paid for its consciously acquired excess weight during this election, then the decimation of the Congress that could manage only five seats, also provide valuable insights into the Manipur electorate's mind. The Congress once held sway in the state, having had an unbroken three terms before being ousted in 2017.

To take one case, there was a time when the Congress had no serious challengers in the 12 seats considered as the stronghold of the Naga tribes in Manipur's 20 seats in the hills. Some of the most prominent politicians of the state have been Nagas, among them, two CMs. This time however, the Congress did not win any of these 12 seats.

The Nagas' disenchantment with the Congress began in May 2010. After decades of hiatus, the then Congress government decided to revive the state's six Autonomous District Councils in the hills, a local self-governance mechanism in lieu of the Panchayat system in the valley. The Naga civil bodies opposed this and instead wanted an "alternative arrangement", an administrative unit autonomous of Manipur state, and embarked on blockading the state along its lifelines.

Amidst this agitation, Thuingaleng Muivah, the leader of the National Socialist Council of Nagalim (Isak-Muivah), wanted to visit his village Somdal in Ukhrul district on May 3 and also hold two public rallies—at Ukhrul town on May 8 and at Senapati town on May 10.

The then Union home minister P Chidambaram had sent a telegram to the then Chief Minister Okram Ibobi, asking him to make security arrangements for Muivah's visit and public rallies to which the latter put his foot down and blocked Muivah's entry into the state. Protests against this decision resulted in two deaths on May 6 at Mao gate. In the 2012 Assembly election, the Congress' share of the 12 Naga seats dropped to five. In 2017, this was reduced to four. This time, the Congress lost all 12.

> The peculiar thing about insurgency is, they are rooted in the societies they spawn from. Hence, no matter how disliked insurgents become, when government campaigns go too far, the hurt begins to be felt by the people, for those killed would be a son, a daughter, a neighbour, etc.

Ethnic friction in the hills between the Nagas and Kukis also added fuel to fire. A demand by Kukis for bifurcation of Sadar Hills as a separate district from the Naga dominated Senapati district led to another flashpoint. Crippling blockades along NH-2 accompanied the demand, and finally, in December 2016, barely three months ahead of the February 2017 election, the Congress government conceded to the demand. In the same move, the government also bifurcated six more administrative districts.

The move was welcomed by non-Naga districts, but vehemently opposed by Naga civil bodies, saying this was designed to encroach on their ancestral homeland, a reference to the demand for a unified Naga homeland.

Highlighting Manipur's complex ethnic matrix, just as the blockade by Kukis ended when the district they wanted was created, another by the Nagas began, objecting to the same decision.

The Congress drew nil this time in the southern districts too where the Kukis and aligned tribes dominate, but this has more to do with their underground militants openly pledging support for the BJP ahead of the election.

The Congress lost miserably in the valley as well, bagging only five out of 40 seats. One of the reasons is the party's radical counter-insurgency strategy adopted during its reign for eliminating militant suspects. The result was 1,528 recorded cases of alleged fake encounter killings. This left deep wounds amongst the public and the BJP capitalised on this during its aggressive election campaign.

The irony is, a state is expected to fight military challenges to it. But the peculiar thing about insurgency is, they are rooted in the societies they spawn from. Frantz Fanon in The Wretched of the Earth calls them the "mailed fists" of aggrieved societies. Hence, no matter how disliked insurgents become, when government campaigns go too far, the hurt begins to be felt by the people, for those killed would be a son, a daughter, a neighbour, etc. Any meaningful resolution to any insurgency, hence, cannot be seen through a law-and-order lens alone for it is also a socio-political challenge.

Another conclusion is obvious. The BJP's victory in Manipur had little to do with any deepening of the Hindutva ideology.

UGRA NARASIMHA & PRAHLADA CHARITA IN K'TAKA SCULPTURE

R H KULKARNI

Professor, Dept of Art History, College of Fine Arts, Karnataka Chitrakala Parishath

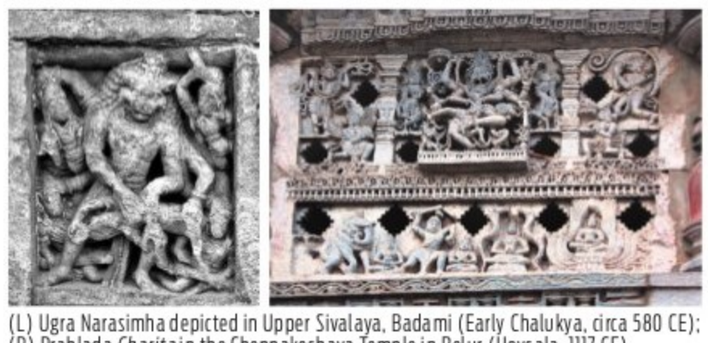
The Ugra (fierce) form of Narasimha has been an important imagery in Indian art. The fourth incarnation of Vishnu has been the subject of narration in Indian lore and literature. The Vishnu Purana has a beautiful narration of the incarnation of the Lord as Narasimha, who manifested to save His child devotee Prahlada from father Hiranyakashipu. The artists who created these forms were always truthful to the textual descriptions. So the zoo-anthropomorphic form of Narasimha was developed such that the image conforms to the boon that Hiranyakashipu had obtained. The Bhagavata Purana elaborates on Narasimha's Ugra form: He appeared from the pillar, fought the demon king, defeated him, devoured the belly, removed the entrails and put them on like a garland.

The most popular images found in visual narration are of Narasimha either in combat with Hiranyakashipu or Him devouring the demon king. The story of the manifestation of Narasimha shows how he emerged to help Prahlada. The narration strongly illustrates the akhanda bhakti (deep devotion) of Prahlada towards Vishnu.

In an earlier column, I had written about the benign forms of the Lord (Early Narasimha sculptures from Karnataka, Dec 23). Here we can look at some of His interesting fierce images. The earliest Ugra Narasimha image was depicted in Cave 3 in Badami, dated to 578 CE, excavated during the Early Chalukya period. This is perhaps the first-ever image of the God in this posture in the entire southern peninsular India. Thereafter, there are plenty of images of Ugra Narasimha, including in Tamil Nadu during the Pallava period. Though earlier Ugra images can be seen from the Kushana and Gupta eras, a full-fledged form was developed in Badami. Nevertheless, the Cave III Ugra form is still represented in a relatively insignificant place, while the same temple has a larger-than-life-size standing image of Kevala Narasimha on the western wall of the verandah. The central figure of the Ugra image is Narasimha and Hiranyakashipu lies on His lap. Narasimha is depicted with eight arms, devouring the belly of Hiranyakashipu and simultaneously fighting his soldiers.

Similarly, a fully developed image of Narasimha in combat is depicted on the northern wall of Upper Sivalaya at Badami (c. 580 CE). The image of Ugra Narasimha is carved in the devakoshta. His mighty energy to fight as many as possible is synoptically composed in this rectangular space. This image is a true enlargement of the Cave III sculpture mentioned earlier. Again, multiple actions of the God are depicted. He has eight arms and a fierce expression. His front hands tear open the entrails of Hiranyakashipu, while the other hands fight four soldiers of the demon king. The composition is made to fit inside the rectangular niche, which also serves as a window. Jalandhras (perforated windows) were introduced by the Early Chalukyan architects. Converting the narrative sculpture as part of window decoration is also an important contribution by the architects and sculptors of the 7th century CE. Badami Chalukya artists depicted both the Ugra and Soumya forms of Narasimha. The Aihole Durga Temple and the places of worship in Mahakuta and Pattadakal have several examples of such images and one can see the varied modes of depictions.

In the post-Badami Chalukya era, Rashtrakuta and Later Chalukya artists also depicted the subject as part of their temples. However it was only later during the Hoysala period that the theme and its narrative were depicted in a very elaborate manner. Narrative depictions of the Prahlada Charita followed by the culmination of the combat scene are common features in a good number of Hoysala temples dating from 1115 CE to 1268 CE. The Chennakeshava Temple in Belur, constructed to commemorate the victory over the Cholas in 1115 CE, was built two years later by King Vishnuvardhana at the instance of Sri Ramanujacharya. The temple's outer wall has a large sculpture of Ugra Narasimha. A window of the same temple has an interesting narrative of the Prahlada Charita. The window is divided into sections and the lower one has the Prahlada narrative. The young devotee is tested for his bhakti towards Vishnu. His father punished him in different ways—by making him sit on a pyre, leaving him among venomous snakes and using elephants to attack him among others. In spite of the various forms of torture, Prahlada was successfully saved by his God Maha Vishnu, and the last episode shown here is the killing of Hiranyakashipu. Narasimha tore open the stomach, removed the entrails and is shown as if he is wearing them as a garland. Hoysala artists are known for their exquisite carvings and this can be seen here.



(L) Ugra Narasimha depicted in Upper Sivalaya, Badami (Early Chalukya, circa 580 CE); (R) Prahlada Charita in the Chennakeshava Temple in Belur (Hoysala, 1117 CE)

The Hoysala temples in Halebidu, Nuggehalli, Hosaholalu, Javagal, Harnahalli, Basaralu and many other places have Prahlada Charita on a narrative panel of the temple, usually depicted as part of the adhisthana (basement). Wall sculptures are a regular feature in Hoysala temples. An interesting depiction is from the Buccheshwara Temple in Koravangala near the Hassan district headquarters, dated to 1173 CE. The temple was built to commemorate the coronation of King Vira Ballala II by his commander Buchimayya. It has a stunning depiction of the subject. Prahlada Charita episodes are directly depicted on the southern wall of the temple. A narration of Narasimha appearing from pillar is most interesting. In Puranic lore, it is said that when Hiranyakashipu questioned his son about the existence of Vishnu, Prahlada told him that He is present everywhere. Hiranyakashipu then hit a pillar inviting Vishnu to come out and fight him. The God as Narasimha appeared from the pillar and finally killed the demon. The same narrative is depicted here. In the composition, Hiranyakashipu is shown as hitting a pillar, from where Narasimha appears. In the next episode, he kills the demon where Prahlada witnesses the great act of the God.

The artists were always creative in conceiving the subjects and depicting them in breathtaking ways. The imagery of Narasimha seen in this article is one such example.

Imran Khan's decline

The writing on the wall is very clear for Pakistan's embattled Prime Minister Imran Khan. On Wednesday, one more key ally of the ruling coalition turned away. Another partner, the Balochistan Awami Party, had ditched the coalition earlier. Army chief Gen Qamar Javed Bajwa and ISI head Lt Gen Nadeem Anjum have also suggested that Khan should step down.

View it in proper light

It is deplorable that so much controversy has been created in political circles about the movie The Kashmir Files. A film should be above all political considerations and should be viewed in proper light. Politics can be played on many things, but it should not be played on the martyrdom of the innocent Kashmiri Pandits.

Promotion or de-addiction?

Kerala's new liquor policy is just what the doctor ordered for the state's bottle lovers. Ancillary industries, more BEVCO outlets and a parlour for the IT sector in its own backyard; yet, the policy is named after de-addiction. Like IT, more sectors will now come forward and demand similar recreational facilities of their own and the government would be forced to yield.

Negligence not murder

It is unfortunate that Dr Archana Sharma, a medical practitioner working in a private hospital in Rajasthan's Dausa, committed suicide after an FIR was filed against her, charging her of murder for the death of a pregnant woman by post-partum haemorrhage. Negligence is not the same as murder; besides, PPH is a common complication faced by pregnant women. The doctor should have fought to prove her innocence instead of making the unfortunate decision to end her life.

Says 35% budget cut compared to 2020; Central ministers claim substantial increase in funding since UPA times

Concerned over MGNREGS fund reduction: Sonia

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

DURING the Zero Hour in Lok Sabha on Thursday, Congress president Sonia Gandhi voiced concern over the budgetary cut for the rural employment guarantee scheme (MGNREGS). She contended that several states have a negative balance in their accounts to the tune of ₹5,000 crore which has led to delays in payments to workers.

Gandhi further suggested the government make adequate allocations to MGNREGS, a scheme that had helped poor and marginalised people during the Covid-19 pandemic and ensured payments within 15 days.

Gandhi said the MGNREGS, which was mocked by some persons, had provided timely help to crores of poor families during the pandemic and played a positive role in helping the government. "Still, there is a regular reduction in the budgetary allocation for MGNREGS. This year the budget for MGNREGS is 35 per cent less than that of 2020. This comes at a time when unemployment is rising continuously," she said.

However, Rural Development Minister Giriraj Singh and I&B Minister Anurag Thakur hit back, accusing her of "politicising" the issue. The ministers stated that her remarks were "far from the truth".

"The issue raised is far from the truth. The budgetary allocation for MGNREGS in 2013-14 (UPA years) was ₹33,000 crore, whereas under Prime Minister Narendra Modi it had reached ₹1.12 lakh crore. No need to show us the mirror," Singh said.

Gandhi also said the states were told that their labour budget will not be approved unless they meet conditions related to social audit. "Social audit should be made effective but workers can't be punished by stopping the money for this. I request the Centre to allocate adequate funds, ensure payment within 15 days of work, and pay compensation in case of delay," she said.

Nation and House feel the loss when experienced lawmakers retire: Modi

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

THE Rajya Sabha, which often witnesses verbal fights and fiery debates between the treasury benches and opposition parties, on Thursday witnessed an unusual bonhomie among the lawmakers as the Upper House bid farewell to 72 of its retiring members.

All the retiring MPs, putting behind all their past political rivalry and differences, got emotional while showing affinity with each other. The ambience inside the House got surcharged with emotion when Prime Minister Narendra Modi spoke heartwarming words and requested them (retiring MPs,) to "come again".

Lauding the contributions of all the retiring members of the RS, Modi said the experience of the retiring members would have to be carries on further by those who would remain in the House. "Academic knowledge sometimes has a lot of limitations. It comes useful in seminars but what is gained from experience has simple solutions to solve problems. Experience has its own importance. When such experienced members leave, the House and the nation feel the loss," he said.

The PM said the members may be retiring from the House but they will take their rich experience to all corners of the country. He also requested the retiring members to pen down their memories as a useful reference for the next generation as how the country moved ahead throughout their tenures in the House.

Rajya Sabha Chairman M Venkaiah Naidu also spoke on the occasion saying that a pool of experienced members has been retiring. Sources said the retiring members had a total parliamentary experience of 181 terms, including 143 terms in Rajya Sabha and rest in the Lok Sabha earlier.

UP fast-tracks defence corridor plans on 4 nodes

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

THE Uttar Pradesh government has started working on its ambitious Defence Corridor project across six nodes — Agra, Aligarh, Lucknow, Kanpur, Chitrakoot and Jhansi. The project, worth ₹20,000 crore, has been planned over 5,071 hectares of land spreading across western, central and Bundelkhand regions of the state.

The project was sanctioned by the Union government during the investors' summit of the Yogi Adityanath government in February, 2018.

At that time, only two defence corridors were sanctioned — one for UP and the other for Tamil Nadu. The project is meant to give a push to indigenous manufacturing of military goods across six nodes. While the inauguration of the Aligarh node was done by PM Narendra Modi last year, the bids for the development of four nodes — Lucknow, Kanpur, Chitrakoot and Jhansi — were invited by the department concerned a day after the announcement of the Assembly poll results on March 10.

So far, the state government has signed 74 MoUs worth ₹4,000 crore as part of the project wherein manufacturing units of defence goods would be set up.

Moreover, 74 hectares of land has also been allotted by the state government to 22 companies in the Aligarh node with a confirmed investment of nearly ₹1,250 crore.

The project will be developed along the Golden Quadrilateral connecting Delhi and Kolkata supported by networks of six expressways — Yamuna Expressway, Agra — Lucknow Expressway, Purvanchal Expressway, Bundelkhand Expressway, Gorakhpur Link Expressway and Ganga Expressway from Meerut to Pryagaraj.

On March 15, the Uttar Pradesh government extended its MoUs with IIT-Kanpur and IIT-BHU for the next three years as knowledge partners for increasing investment in the project. The work on the project is already in fast-track as the foundation of the Brahmos Aerospace Unit for the manufacturing of the next generation (Brahmos-NG) missile was laid in Lucknow last year, while the land has been provided to Bharat Dynamics Ltd for units in Jhansi.

BSP MP alleges financial sidelining of India's Muslims

He was talking about the restrictions imposed on Muslims traders by several temple authorities in Kerala from setting up stalls. ENS

9th hike in fuel prices in 10 days; protests intensify

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi garlands a two-wheeler during a protest over the hike in prices of petrol, diesel and LPG in New Delhi on Thursday | PARVEEN NEGI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

PUTTING up a united front against the Centre amid the hike in fuel prices for the ninth consecutive day in the last 10 days, opposition members continued their protest within and the outside Parliament on Thursday. Opposition members, including those from Congress, TMC, Shiv Sena and others, walked out of the Lok Sabha to register their collective protest.

The protest grew more aggressive and louder than previous day when the oil companies again hiked petrol and diesel prices by 80 paisa per litre, imposing a total hike of ₹6.40 per litre in the last nine days.

Outside the Parliament, near the Vijay Chowk, Congress leaders, including Rahul Gandhi, garlanded a scooter and LPG cylinder in a symbolical protest. Gandhi told the media that the Congress has launched a nation-wide protest against the price rise. Sushmita Dev, TMC MP in Rajya Sabha, said the price hike is a brazen loot of the common man. Also, the CPM has announced a country-wide protest on April 2.

Manghat accts in India frozen in fraud case

SHAHID FARIDI @New Delhi

THE Enforcement Directorate has asked Indian banks to freeze assets and accounts of the Manghat brothers — Prasanth Manghat and Promoth Manghat — in a multi-billion dollar fraud case involving the NMC group, the biggest healthcare company of West Asia.

NMC group founder Dr B R Shetty has been accused by Abu Dhabi Commercial Bank (ADCB) of availing a billion dollar credit facility through misrepresentations and conspiracy. In December 2020, the ADCB obtained a worldwide freeze order against NMC from a London court. Many other banks have made similar accusations against him taking the total scam into billions of dollars. There are also accusations of NMC siphoning off loan amounts received from banks.

Dr Shetty, however, has claimed that he is not a culprit but a victim of a scam by his senior officials, including former CEO and director Prasanth Manghat and his brother Promoth Manghat, who was also a senior executive in the group. Dr Shetty has filed a case against the Manghat brothers and is contesting the London court's freezing order against him. He claims that the guarantees given to banks on his behalf were forged by the Manghat brothers.

Bringing a new twist in the tale, the ED has reportedly discovered that several hundred crores of rupees were brought into their Indian accounts by the Manghat brothers. This money, ED suspects, could be related to the NMC fraud case.

In a letter dated 24.03.22 to the HDFC Bank, Darragh Smail Centre, 5th Cross, Willingdon Centre, Kochi, the ED informed the bank that the Manghat brothers have multiple accounts in their branch, and requested it not to allow any transactions as the properties and assets related to the accounts and account holders were "proceeds of crime".

The ED also sought full details of transactions in these accounts, especially the foreign inward remittances.

Sources said similar letters were sent by the ED to many other banks, including Axis Bank and Bank of Baroda.

The bank fraud relating to NMC Plc, which is a listed company on the London stock exchange, came to light when the US financial research company Muddy Waters came out with a report that the company was taking fresh loans without revealing its debts to the tune of $ 4-5 billion.

Dr Shetty hails from Karnataka. His company runs over 200 clinics and hospitals in 19 countries.

800-PLUS ESSENTIAL DRUGS TO GET DEARER FROM TODAY

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

PRICES of over 800 drugs under the National List of Essential Medicines (NLEM), including paracetamol, common antibiotics like azithromycin, doxycycline, and medications for hypertension, diabetes, and Covid-19, will increase by 10.7% starting Friday.

Activists slammed the move saying that it would hit the pockets of the poor and middle-class and make the essential medicines unaffordable.

The National Pharmaceutical Pricing Authority of India (NPPA), India's apex drug pricing regulator, announced last week a 10.7% change in the Wholesale Price Index (WPI) for the calendar year 2021 over the same period in 2020. The steep hike would also mean the prices of a few medical devices such as coronary stents and knee implants would go up.

Slamming the move, Dr Chinu Srinivasan of All India Drug Action Network (AIDAN), an NGO which works to increase access to and improve the rational use of essential medicines, said the Central government had done it to satisfy the pharma industry. "Government needs to relook into the price-control policy and make it more realistic so that consumers and manufacturers benefit," he told this newspaper.

These scheduled medicines constitute about 18% of the total domestic pharma retail market, valued around ₹1.5 trillion. Last year, the NPPA, which fixed the ceiling price of scheduled medicines as per the Drugs (Price Control) Order (DPCO) 2013, had raised the prices by nearly 5%.

Dr Gopal Dabade of AIDAN said this steep hike would hit the "poor and the middle-class" more. "The out-of-pocket expenses are huge, which is contributed by the drug prices," he added. "It's unfortunate that essential drug prices have been increased. It will make a lot of poor people unable to access essential medicines, more so in tribal areas and other remote areas."

"If a patient, who is a senior citizen, has diabetes and hypertension and his wife has the same disease, and if he gets a pension of ₹12,000, then he is spending ₹4,000-5,000 on medicines only. Now, the government has further hiked the price. There is no justification," he added.

Rise in cases of cardiac arrest among Indian youth due to lifestyle: Study

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

INDIA is sitting on a time-bomb of non-communicable diseases (NCDs), mainly caused due to overweight, obesity, hypertension and metabolic disorders, a study released on Thursday said, adding that of these, the double trouble of hypertension and obesity have been increasing gradually, resulting in cardiovascular diseases (CVDs).

The study, done by India Health Link (IHL) in collaboration with HEAL Foundation, said the incidence of cardiac arrest among the Indian population, especially among the youth, has increased significantly and it is due to sedentary lifestyle and working habits.

The Indian hearts lacking care (IHL Care) study also said that Delhi has the highest 50% overweight and 38% obese population, while 65% of people in Mumbai and 48% in Delhi are in the pro CVD risk age group. It also said 50% men and 25% women in Bengaluru are more prone to BP risk.

The study also said that 53% of Indians in the age group of 26-40 years are at high risk of CVDs due to double trouble of obesity and hypertension.

The study saw participation of 1,461 (77% men and 23% women) respondents from four metro cities — Mumbai, Delhi, Bangalore and Chennai.

Dr Satyender Goel, founder and CEO, India Health Link (IHL) said, "The study has brought out that there is a strong correlation between BMI scores and BP risk, and it is also observed that more the BMI scores, higher the BP risk."

Miffed Shivpal weighing options for political rehab

Mulayam's brother said to be eying an Assembly seat for his son

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

EVEN as the buzz over his possible crossover to the BJP is getting stronger, Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav's estranged uncle Shivpal Yadav is keeping his cards close to his chest. A day after his meeting with Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath, Shivpal held a meeting with core group of leaders of his party, Pragatisheel Samajwadi Party-Lohia (PSP-L), on Thursday.

Later, responding to media persons' queries about joining the BJP, had said he would open his mouth about his future course of action at an appropriate time. "This is not an appropriate time to say anything. But, I would take this opportunity to assure my party leaders not to get worried about the future," said Shivpal. "I had called a meeting of my party leaders today (Thursday) to discuss party's strategy for future."

Sources in his party claimed that Shivpal was weighing options as he wanted to secure a political future for his son, Aditya. "There is a buzz that the BJP may send Shivpal Yadav to Rajya Sabha and his son Aditya may contest on his Jaswantnagar assembly seat," said a source close to PSPL chief.

Akhilesh Yadav, Shivpal Yadav and Mulayam Singh Yadav | TWITTER

Political pundits, however, feel that if Shivpal joins the BJP, either he or his son may be fielded from Azamgarh parliamentary seat, which has been vacated by Akhilesh Yadav who has decided to retain his assembly seat of Karhal. Azamgarh will witness bypolls soon.

Shivpal has been sulking since he was not invited to SP legislature party meeting in which Akhilesh was elected on Saturday. Sources close to him claimed he was eying a bigger role in the SP after he contested the recent Assembly elections from Jaswantnagar on the Samajwadi Party symbol, sacrificing his own party.

In fact, after Akhilesh's promise – ahead of assembly polls – of giving Shivpal his due, he had been expecting a seat to be spared for his son to contest, but the SP chief reportedly refused. A dismayed Shivpal had expressed had said that he had agreed to contest on the SP symbol only to honour elder brother Mulayam's words.

Tussle in Punjab Cong over key posts

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

FACTIONALISM and infighting in the Punjab Congress continues even after the loss in the Assembly polls as leaders vie for the posts of Leader of Opposition and the party's state unit president. The bickering has in fact, got ugly, with some leaders using cuss words to criticise each other, throwing all decorum to winds.

Without taking the name of former Punjab Congress president Navjot Singh Sidhu, Ludhiana MP Ravneet Singh Bittu called him a 'misguided missile' which destroyed own house, squarely blaming the mercurial cricketer-turned-politician for the party's downfall in Punjab.

Though he did not take names, Bittu left no ambiguity about who he was referring to when he said the high command and leaders in general trusted the people who they thought would take the party to newer heights due to their "so-called" charisma. But what happened was totally in contrast and the "lions of the party were defeated by jackals" because of the follies of party's own leaders.

Sources said former Rajya Sabha MP Partap Singh Bajwa, who won the Assembly elections from Qadian, former deputy CM-cum-home minister Sukhjinder Singh Randhawa, who was re-elected from Dera Babar Nanak, and former transport minister Amarinder Singh Raja Warring, MLA from Giddarbaha, are in the race to become the next Punjab Congress president or Leader of Opposition. A group of 25 Congress leaders headed by Sidhu had recently met at the house of former MLA Navjeet Singh Cheema at Sultanpur Lodhi in an attempt to propel Khaira's candidature for LoP.

Bajwa targeted Sidhu without taking his name and said that in a race, if Arabic horses are not allowed to participate and desi horses participate, the result will be a disaster.

Sidhu, on the other hand, quoted a Hindi saying that even a dead elephant remains quite valuable.

Punjab says no to Centre on prepaid smart power meters

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

POWER meters are the new point of friction between the Centre and Punjab. The AAP-led state government has refused to accept the Centre's directive on installing prepaid smart electricity meters in households saying the move will interfere with its plan to provide free electricity.

The Union power ministry had earlier told the state to install the prepaid smart meters in order to check power thefts and high transmission losses. The state loses ₹1,200 crore per year to power thefts.

In a letter to Punjab's power secretary on March 10, Vishal Kapoor, joint secretary in Union power ministry, noted that out of 85,000 smart meters installed in the state so far under the Government of India scheme, none were in prepaid mode. He directed that all the smart meters installed under Government of India schemes be converted into prepaid mode within three months or else the Union government would be forced to withhold funds for power reforms.

Turning down the Centre's directive, Punjab's power minister Harbhajan Singh said the state government would install smart meters but not the prepaid ones mandated by the Centre. "An ordinary meter costs between ₹500 and ₹1,500, while the cost of a smart prepaid meter is between ₹5,000-₹7,000. The state will bear the cost initially, but later it will be extracted from consumers as the Centre will reimburse only 15% of the cost," said an official.

G-23 never wanted Gandhis out: Nath

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

CONGRESS veteran and former chief minister of Madhya Pradesh Kamal Nath on Thursday claimed that the 'G-23' group had never demanded that a leader from outside the Gandhi family head the party. What the dissidents group has been demanding is reforms in the party and organisational polls and the latter has been met as elections will be held within three months, Nath told media persons.

Asked about the demand that a non-Gandhi family member should head the Congress, Nath said, "Party elections are going to be held. This G-23 group is very close to me. They have been my colleagues for years. They have never made any such demand. In fact, all their demands have already been met. They have asked for party elections and they are going to be held. Polls can't be held without membership, so that process is also going on and elections will be held in three months,"

Those sitting in cities like Delhi, Bhopal, Mumbai and Bangalore and talking about the country do not understand "towns and villages," he further said.

Nath also attacked the BJP governments at the Centre and in MP over inflation. While the price of every other commodity is increasing, that of liquor has fallen, he said. "Milk is getting costlier while liquor is becoming cheaper," he said.

"Modi ji (Prime Minister Narendra Modi) used to say big things about inflation in 2013-14 and Shivraj (MP Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan) used to ride bicycle in protest (against fuel price rise). They are quiet on the issue now," Nath said.

Chouhan has now started a "factory of announcements and assurances," he added.

The cost of fertilizer and seeds has increased compared to four years ago, Nath said, adding that farmers, the youth and small traders are all in trouble and hence Congress is staging protests "to open the government's eyes and ears as the government's mouth is open but eyes and ears are shut." With agency inputs

CRITIC SPEAKS

Central sleuths would've raided me if I was rich: Satya Pal Malik

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

IN a veiled attack on the Narendra Modi government, Meghalaya Governor Satya Pal Malik said if he were rich, his house would have been raided by agencies such as the Enforcement Directorate, Income Tax wing and CBI.

Malik, who does not own a house, has requested the Centre to allot one to him post-retirement.

Speaking at an event in Shillong on Wednesday, Malik said although he had served as an MLA, MP, minister and now Governor, yet he did not own a house. He said he had requested Home Minister Amit Shah to allot a house to him following retirement.

A critic of the farm laws, Malik said poverty had been his strength and he could fight the high and mighty of the country. Recently, the Governor had hinted that his days in the post could be numbered for his criticism of the Centre on the farmers' issue. He had asked the Centre to keep its promises made to the farmers .He also said that he did not have any enmity with the central government.

Speaking at the programme in Shillong, Malik criticised the central government for its alleged lack of focus on the education sector.

He said India could produce only 12 Nobel laureates while the universities in the USA and England have plenty of such winners.

'Sabotage' to blame for Dhami's loss, finds BJP

VINEET UPADHYAY @ Dehradun

FACTIONALISM in the party and internal sabotage are to be blamed for the defeat of Uttarakhand Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami from Khatima seat in the recent Assembly elections, the BJP has concluded.

The party had decided to "introspect and analyse" the reasons behind its defeat on 23 seats in the state, including Khatima.

"The committee visited the constituency from where the CM contested and lost by over 6,900 votes. Its members concluded that the CM lost due to internal sabotage. Further inquiry will be conducted to find out the people responsible," said a party insider.

The party has also decided to investigate the reasons for reduced vote share compared to 2017. B L Santosh, BJP national general secretary, is likely to visit Uttarakhand soon to hold meetings on the matter.

The constituencies which will get special attention include Khatima and Piran Kaliyar, where the party candidate lost deposit, and other seats where the margin of defeat was below 3,000. BJP sources said the exercise could lead to weeding out of some members who are suspected to have helped the rivals.

In the 2017 elections, the BJP had garnered 46.51% votes with 57 seats while this time, it bagged 44.34% votes and 47 seats.

Despite Dhami's loss, the BJP central leadership decided to retain him as CM after the party secured 48 seats in the 70-member Assembly, beating the trend of no party returning to power for a second straight term. Six MLAs of the party have shown willingness to vacate their seats for Dhami to contest.

When Dhami was chosen CM in July last year, many seniors including Satpal Maharaj, Harak Singh Rawat and B S Chuphal were reportedly unhappy.

Campaign to encourage hoisting Tricolour at houses

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

TO instill patriotic fervour among citizenry this Independence Day, the culture and tourism ministry has proposed to launch a mega campaign under which people will be exhorted to hoist the national flag over their houses on August 15. The initiative will be part of the ongoing Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav (AKAM), celebration and commemoration of 75 years of India's independence.

The officials, in the know of the matter, said that the campaign aims to encourage people to remember sacrifices made by the freedom fighters and ensure their participation in the celebrations.

Postcard campaign

Over one crore responses were received following a postcard campaign conducted to seek views of youth on how they want to see the nation in 2047; the year in which the country will complete 100 years of independence

"The idea behind this concept is that people discuss and remember contributions of our leaders and unsung heroes to the freedom struggle. This is also to ignite patriotism among people. As part of the campaign — 'Har Ghar Jhanda' (flag at each house) — the ministry is aiming to see tricolour flying at 10 crore houses. A proper announcement will be made by the appropriate authority at the right time," the official said.

The Indian flag code was modified in 2002, which permits citizens to fly the tricolour over their homes, offices and factories on any day.

Speaking at Rashtriya Sanskriti Mahotsav, national festival of folk, tribal art and dance, at Warangal on Wednesday Union Culture and Tourism Minister G Kishan Reddy urged people to hoist the national flag at their houses as the country will be celebrating 75 years of independence.

The officials said that Reddy's appeal to people is in accordance with the ministry's proposed nationwide national flag campaign.

The ministry, in association with other ministries, government departments and private organisations, are taking unique steps to make sure people also become a part of AKAM. It has successfully conducted various campaigns like 'India 2.0 postcard', where it received remarkable response from the people.

UP qawwali singer booked for 'provocative' remarks

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

A qawwali singer from Uttar Pradesh has been booked by Madhya Pradesh police for making 'provocative' remarks about the country, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Union Home Minister Amit Shah and UP CM Yogi Adityanath.

"A case has been registered under IPC Sections 153 (provocation with intent to cause riot), 505 (statements conducing to public mischief) and 298 (uttering words, etc with deliberate intent to wound) against the Kanpur-based Qawwali singer Sharif Parvaz," MP Home Minister Narottam Mishra said on Thursday.

"It's my request to the Qawwal that he is free to sing whatever he likes, Qawwali, Thumri or Dadra, but he should not even think of singing against the country. This is the era of nationalism and a nationalist government is in power," Mishra said while informing about the case having been registered against the singer.

State seeks extension of GST compensation for 5 yrs

CM Bhupesh Baghel has written a letter to his counterparts in 17 other states, including 5 ruled by the BJP as well as the AAP in Delhi – seeking their support to persuade the union government on extending the compensation mechanism under the Goods and Services Tax (GST) beyond June 2022 for five years. The chief minister reminded that the Centre has decided to stop the compensation to states under GST after June. "The move will cause a massive loss of revenue to the manufacturing states. Either the Centre should continue with the GST compensation or make an alternate arrangement," the CM said and added that Chhattisgarh is expected to face a revenue loss of approximately ₹5,000 crore annually if the compensation mechanism is not extended.

Dustbins made mandatory in cars in city

Some may not consider a trash can a car interior accessory, but it is now mandatory in Raipur to keep one in your vehicle – failure of which will invite a punitive fine. This is an attempt by the Raipur Municipal Corporation (RMC) to keep the city ahead in the list of the cleanest city in India under the 'Swachh Survekshan-2022'. Mayor Aijaz Dhebar, speaker Pramod Dubey, members of Chhattisgarh chambers of commerce, and social organisations got engaged to create awareness on cleanliness among the drivers and passengers of the vehicles at Jaistambh Chowk, junctions, intersections and pedestrian crossings.

State planning to procure cow urine

After the cow-dung scheme, the state government is gearing up to procure cow urine soon. Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel directed the state officials to constitute a technical committee that will study various aspects on procuring cow urine. It will recommend to the government regarding the collection of cow urine, testing its quality and using it to prepare products. Russians leaving Chernobyl after radiation exposure: Ukraine

Talks today; efforts on to evacuate civilians from Mariupol as Kremlin agrees to ceasefire

KYIV

Russian troops began leaving the Chernobyl nuclear plant after soldiers got "significant doses" of radiation from digging trenches at the highly contaminated site, Ukraine's state power company said on Thursday as fighting raged on the outskirts of Kyiv and other fronts.

Energoatom gave no details on the condition of the troops or how many were affected. But it said the Russians had dug in in the forest inside the exclusion zone around the now-closed plant, the site in 1986 of the world's worst nuclear disaster. The troops "panicked at the first sign of illness," which "showed up very quickly," and began preparing to leave, Energoatom said. There was no immediate comment from the Kremlin.

Russian forces seized the Chernobyl site in the opening stages of the February 24 invasion, raising fears that they would cause damage or disruption that could spread radiation. The workforce at the site oversees the safe storage of spent fuel rods and the concrete-entombed ruins of the exploded reactor. The reported pullout came amid continued fighting and indications that the Kremlin is using talk of de-escalation as cover while regrouping and resupplying its forces and redeploying them for a stepped-up offensive in eastern Ukraine. Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said Ukraine is seeing "a buildup of Russian forces for new strikes on the Donbas, and we are preparing for that."

Meanwhile, a convoy of buses headed to Mariupol in another bid to evacuate people from the besieged port city after the Russian military agreed to a limited ceasefire in the area. And a new round of talks aimed at stopping the fighting was scheduled for Friday. The Red Cross said its teams were headed for Mariupol with medical supplies and other relief and hoped to take civilians out of the beleaguered city.

At the same time on Thursday, Russian forces shelled Kyiv suburbs, two days after the Kremlin announced it would significantly scale back operations near both the capital and the northern city of Chernihiv to increase trust between the two sides.

Britain's Defense Ministry also reported "significant Russian shelling and missile strikes" around Chernihiv. The area's governor, Viacheslav Chaus, said Russian troops were on the move but may not be withdrawing.

Russia's military also reported conducting strikes on Ukrainian fuel supplies late on Wednesday, and Ukrainian officials said there were artillery barrages in and around the northeastern city of Kharkiv over the past day.

Despite the fighting, Russia said it committed to a ceasefire along the route from Mariupol to the Ukraine-held city of Zaporizhzhia. AP

KREMLIN DENIES CLAIMS THAT PUTIN 'MISLED' OVER UKRAINE

Moscow: The Kremlin on Thursday denied US and British claims that President Vladimir Putin's advisers are scared of giving him a true picture of Moscow's military operation in Ukraine. Putin launched the military operation in Ukraine on February 24 citing the "genocide" of Russian speakers there and accusing the pro-Western country of close ties with NATO. "This shows that neither the Department of State nor the Pentagon have real information about what is happening in Kremlin," said Putin's spokesman Dmitry Peskov. "They don't understand President Putin, they don't understand the mechanism for taking decisions and they don't understand the style of our work," he added. AFP

Suu Kyi back in junta court after quarantine

Yangon: Ousted Myanmar leader Aung San Suu Kyi returned for hearings in a junta court on Thursday after being quarantined when Covid was detected among her staff, a source with knowledge of her case said. The 76-year-old's civilian government was removed in a coup last year that triggered mass protests, and she faces a raft of charges that could see her sentenced to more than 150 years in jail. Currently on trial for alleged corruption, breaching Myanmar's official secrets act and pressuring election commission, Suu Kyi was placed in quarantine last week after some of her staff tested positive. On Thursday, she "appeared before the district judge" for her official secrets act trial in a court in the military-built capital Naypyidaw, said a source. AFP

3 killed in attacks in restive Papua province

Jayapura: A government soldier, his wife and an independence fighter were killed in two separate attacks in Indonesia's restive Papua province, security officers and a rebel spokesperson said on Thursday. Clashes have escalated in Papua province since last year, when rebels set fire to several schools and killed two teachers in Puncak district. Attackers from the West Papua Liberation Army, the military wing of the Free Papua Organisation, fatally shot a soldier, killed his wife by slashing her neck, and injured their two children in an assault at a house on Thursday morning in Elelim village in Yalimo district, said Papua deputy military chief Lt Col Candra Kurniawan. Separately, Indonesian security forces fatally shot a local rebel commander who was resisting arrest in a raid in Nabire district, said Papua police. AP

Hundreds try to storm Lankan prez home as crisis deepens

COLOMBO

POLICE fired tear gas and water cannon at hundreds of protesters trying to storm the home of Sri Lankan President Gotabaya Rajapaksa in the capital on Thursday, demanding his resignation as the South Asian nation's economic crisis worsened.

The island of 22 million people is in the grips of its worst downturn since independence, sparked by an acute lack of foreign currency to pay for even the most essential imports. Diesel — the main fuel for buses and commercial vehicles — was unavailable at stations across the island on Thursday, according to officials, crippling public transport.

Outside Rajapaksa's home in Colombo's Mirihana residential quarter, anti-riot squads beat back demonstrators after they blocked the roads for more than two hours. Official sources said Rajapaksa was not at home during the protests.

The rally had been called by social media activists who were not immediately identified, but their ire was directed at Rajapaksa and his family.

Diesel shortages had sparked outrage across Sri Lanka in recent days, but the protests had so far been in towns and not aimed at any top leader, before Thursday's events. "We are siphoning off fuel from buses that are in the garage for repairs and using that diesel to operate serviceable vehicles," Transport Minister Dilum Amunugama said.

The state electricity monopoly said it had enforced a 13-hour power cut from Thursday — the longest ever — because they did not have diesel for generators. AFP

Ukrainian refugees encouraged to find jobs as war exodus slows

WARSAW

AS the number of people fleeing Ukraine slows, authorities in Poland and other neighboring nations are encouraging refugees from the war to find jobs, especially in health care and education. The UN refugee agency UNHCR reported on Thursday that the daily number of arrivals recorded by the countries that border Ukraine dropped below 40,000 on Wednesday, the fewest s ince Russian troops invaded five weeks ago.

Poland's Border Guard registered more than half of the new arrivals, maintaining a pattern seen since the start of the war. Of the conflict's more than 4 million refugees, almost 2.4 million went to Poland, according to the country's border agency. It's Europe's worst refugee crisis since World War II.

Humanitarian organisations and other observers have attributed the slowing of the Ukrainian exodus in recent days to several possible factors, including residents of surrounded and besieged cities having no way to safely evacuate. Others may be reluctant to leave their homes and hoping to wait out the hostilities, observers say. Recent legislation passed in Poland allows refugees from Ukraine to obtain ID numbers that entitle them to free medical care, education, social benefits and the right to work for 18 months. Refugees in Warsaw have submitted about 700 applications and some 100 have been hired for jobs in the Polish capital's medical centers and schools, according to city officials.

To boost the employment drive, Mayor Rafal Trzaskowski and Deputy Mayor Renata Kaznowska met on Thursday with the director of the Bielanski Hospital and some Ukrainian and Polish staff members. "Our guests are full of fortitude, they want to start to help us right away, they want to find jobs," said Trzaskowski. AP

Rockslide kills 10 people in Oman

Dubai: A rockslide that sent giant slabs of stone cascading into a quarry in the northwest of Oman earlier this week has killed at least 10 people, rescue services said on Thursday. Oman's Ambulance Authority reported that rescuers were still searching for at least four other people known to be buried under the rubble of the quarry in Irbi, in Oman's mountainous north. As workers retrieved bodies throughout the day, the death toll in the cliff collapse rose to 10.

Imran won't quit, will face no-trust vote

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

WITH the numbers stacked against him in the no-trust vote scheduled for Sunday in Pakistan's parliament, Prime Minister Imran Khan's address to the nation on Thursday appeared to be a repetitive rant aimed at burnishing his Islamic credentials after ejection from power instead of giving any indication how he would try to save his tottering government.

Despite losing majority, his speech suggested he will not resign and is ready to face the vote. Imran claimed he will return stronger.

Imran also hinted that a 'threat letter' to his administration he had flagged a few days ago, came from the US. It was later read as a Imran's 'slip of tongue' moment as he spoke impromptu. "The letter stated that the no-confidence motion was being tabled even before it was filed, which means the Opposition was in contact with them," Imran alleged in his address. For its part, the US claims it did not send any letter to Pakistan on the political situation.

Earlier in the day, the parliament session was adjourned till Sunday after the Opposition demanded an immediate vote on the motion.

Macron attacks Le Pen as lead slips in French polls

PARIS

PRESIDENT Emmanuel Macron on Thursday launched a bitter attack against far-right leader Marine Le Pen after warning supporters to take nothing for granted in an increasingly tight French election.

Macron is due to address a rally for the first time in his re-election campaign in Paris on Saturday as the clock ticks to the first round of France's presidential polls on April 10. The president, who was late entering the campaign as he was sidetracked by Russia's war against Ukraine, for the first time attended a meeting at the headquarters of his Republic on the Move (LREM) party late on Wednesday.

"The president-candidate called for a collective mobilisation, based on the idea that nothing is won yet," a source, who took part in the meeting, said. His attendance, which had not been announced by his team, came after a series of polls showed that Le Pen, the president's main election rival, is catching up on Macron, who has long been the overwhelming favourite to win.

The latest Elabe poll published Wednesday showed Le Pen winning 47.5% of the vote in a second-round run-off against Macron, who was projected to garner 52.5% , a smaller margin than in the same poll last week. With a margin of error of up to 3.1 points, those figures suggest Le Pen could theoretically emerge as the winner in the second round. AFP

Israeli troops raid West Bank, 2 killed in gun battle

JERUSALEM

ISRAELI forces raided a refugee camp in the occupied West Bank on Thursday, setting off a gun battle in which two Palestinians were killed and 15 were wounded, as Israel targeted what it said were militant networks after a series of deadly attacks.

In a separate incident, a Palestinian stabbed a 28-year-old Israeli man on a bus in the West Bank before being killed by a bystander, the military said. The Magen David Adom emergency service said the stabbing victim was treated and taken to a hospital.

Videos circulated online showing smoke rising from the centre of the Jenin refugee camp as gunfire echoed in the background.

Others appeared to show Israeli soldiers and Palestinian gunmen moving through the narrow streets.

The raid came two days after a Palestinian from a village near Jenin shot and killed five people in central Israel, part of a wave of attacks in recent days that have left a total of 11 people dead. The Palestinian Health Ministry said 17-year-old Sanad Abu Atiyeh and 23-year-old Yazid al-Saadi were killed on Thursday. It said 30-year-old Nidal Jaafara was shot and killed near the West Bank town of Bethlehem, apparently referring to the stabbing incident.

The Israeli military said troops came under fire after entering Jenin to arrest three suspects linked to Tuesday's attack. It said one soldier was wounded and evacuated to a hospital for treatment. The army said it has arrested a total of 31 suspects in recent West Bank raids aimed at preventing more attacks.

The Jenin refugee camp was the scene of one of the deadliest battles of the second Palestinian intifada, or uprising. In April 2002, Israeli forces fought Palestinian militants in the camp for nearly three weeks. Twenty-three Israeli soldiers and at least 52 Palestinians, including civilians, were killed, according to the UN.

The Palestinian Authority, which administers parts of the occupied West Bank and coordinates with Israel on security matters, appears to have had little control over Jenin in recent years. Israeli forces operating in and around the city and refugee camp often come under fire.

The Islamic Jihad militant group announced a "general mobilisation" of its fighters after Thursday's raid.

In Tuesday's attack, a 27-year-old Palestinian from the West Bank village of Yabad, near Jenin, methodically gunned down victims, killing five. On Sunday night, two Islamic State group sympathizers shot and killed two police officers in the central city of Hadera. AP

FRESH HIKES

PETROL, DIESEL PRICES HIKED AGAIN

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

WITH fresh hikes in petrol and diesel proces by 80 paise each on Thursday, Oil Marketing Companies have hiked the petrol prices by around ₹11 per litre and diesel price by ₹13 per litre in the past one year across the country.

This comes despite the central government reducing the excise duty on petrol and diesel by ₹5 and ₹10 per litre, respectively in November 2021. The petrol price on 1 April 2021 was ₹90.60 while the diesel was retailing at ₹80.91 in Delhi. As per the price notification by OMCs, petrol costs ₹101.81 per litre and diesel ₹93.07 per litre in Delhi.

The fuel price in India is decided by the Public Sector Oil Marketing Companies (OMCs), in line with International crude price. However, for the past one year, the crude price in the international market has been volatile due to various geopolitical reasons. The ongoing war between Ukraine and Russia led the crude price to cross the $100 per barrel in the international market. The Brent Crude Future, the benchmark of crude price, was trading at $139 per barrel in the first week of March, highest since 2008.

The price of transport fuel increased by ₹3 to ₹4 per litre every month in the past one year.

For instance, on 1 May 2021, the petrol was retailing at ₹90.44 while on 1 June 2021, it hiked by almost ₹4 to ₹94.55 per litre. In the month of June too, the price of petrol was hiked by around ₹3. It cost ₹98.87 on 30 June. The same was the case with diesel prices until the central government cut excise duty on transport fuel in November. It said the reduction in excise duty on transport fuel will boost consumption and keep inflation low.

The price was steady for almost four months till 22 March 2022. In the past ten days, OMCs have hiked the fuel price for the ninth time. Today, they have raised ₹0.80 on diesel and petrol, taking the overall increase to ₹6.40 per litre. The reason for fuel retailers to hike the price is to bridge under-recoveries that are estimated to have risen to ₹20-22 when global benchmark oil hit the highest. The prices of petrol and diesel vary from state to state, depending on the incidence of local taxes like value-added tax (VAT) and freight charges.

In Mumbai, the petrol & diesel prices per litre at ₹116.72 and ₹100.94, in Chennai the price of petrol is ₹107.45 and diesel is Rs 97.52.

Stocks trump gold despite inflation, war

Stocks outperformed other asset classes like gold, bonds and the rupee in 2022; Trend likely to continue in the new fiscal year

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

FOR common retail investors, stocks outperformed other asset classes like gold, bonds and the rupee in the fiscal year 2022. The bullish trend is likely to continue in the new fiscal year amid the spectre of rising retail prices, hardening interest rates and geopolitical tensions.

Those who invested in mutual funds linked to the Nifty Midcap 100 index, for the purpose of this comparison, earned the best returns (see chart), followed by large cap funds which invested in the Nifty and Sensex indices.

Gold yielded 14% return, while the 10-year bond yield rose 8.5% and the rupee depreciated by 4.68%

Market experts like Vijay Kedia, MD, Kedia Securities, expects metal and cement stocks to outperform other stocks in the new fiscal. He also expects metal stocks to outperform other asset classes like gold and bonds. "A bull market is like sunshine, always there somewhere," Kedia said, adding that the market which has weathered the storms of rising inflation, hardening interest rates (in the US) and the Russian invasion of Ukraine more recently, continues to hold promise.

FIIs have sold $18.4 billion worth of equities in the past fiscal year, out of which the March quarter alone accounted for four-fifths of their sales. However, despite this, mavens including Kedia and SK Srivastava , founder IndiaCharts, remain bullish on stocks.

Srivastava feels the Nifty is headed to a new record high, surpassing the peak of 18604.45 on October 19, 2021, fuelled by bullish domestic institutional and retail buying.

Gold could retain its attractiveness as an inflation hedge and safe haven asset, which could test its record high of ₹56029 per 10 gm on August 7, 2020 as a fallout from the Pandemic.

Indian gold consumption is the world's second-highest after China. In the last seven years, barring 2020, average annual gold demand in India remained around 716 tonnes, according to Debajit Saha, lead metals analyst at London Stock Exchange Group (LSEG). The gold demand fell to 337 tonnes in 2020 as the country went under lockdown due to the pandemic. Bond yields could rise as RBI raises its benchmark repo rate by a cumulative 50 basis points to combat rising inflation, with energy and crude making up 52% of the CPI.

Interest rates on small savings schemes untouched

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE government has retained the interest rates on various small savings schemes, including NSC and PPF, for the first quarter of FY21 (April-June).

The rates for the last quarter of the previous fiscal will continue to apply for this quarter amid rising inflation.

Public Provident Fund (PPF) will accordingly yield 7.10%, post office time deposits will earn 5.5-6.7%, senior citizens savings schemes will continue to yield 7.4% and the girl child savings scheme Sukanya Samriddhi Yojana account will earn 7.6%.

The interest rate on small savings schemes continue even as retail inflation as measured by the consumer price index rose to 6.07% in February, above the Reserve Bank of India's upper tolerance band of 6% for the second consecutive month.

Customers are bearing the brunt of higher international crude oil prices driven by Russia's invasion of Europe, which also has a cascading effect on other commodity prices.

The government notifies the interest rates on the small savings schemes on a quarterly basis.

LODHA will spend ~₹3-4b/quarter for JDA investments. While commodity prices have seen significant increase over recent past, the company believes that minor prices hikes undertaken will be more than sufficient to offset the cost inflation. Exide to invest ₹6k cr in Karnataka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

STORAGE battery major Exide Industries on Thursday announced that it will invest Rs 6,000 crore to set up a lithium ion cell manufacturing giga factory in Karnataka.

Once operational, it will be one of the largest giga factories for advanced cell chemistry technology. The company has requested 80 acres of land in the Haraluru Industrial Area near the Kempegowda International Airport. The new factory will create 1,200-1,400 jobs, sources said.

Exide Industries MD and CEO Subir Chakraborty met Karnataka Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday regarding the new project. Additional Chief Secretary E V Ramana Reddy and Commissioner for Industrial Development, Director, Department of Industries & Commerce, director Gunjan Krishna were also present during the meeting.

Exide, the largest automotive battery maker, recently entered into an agreement with SVOLT Energy Technology of China to make lithium ion batteries. The Chinese company will support Exide to set up the manufacturing plant. Exide has already partnered with Swiss firm Leclanche to build lithium ion modules. It is also in the process of forming a Special Purpose vehicle (SPV) through a wholly-owned subsidiary to carry out its manufacturing business.

Considering the demand for electric vehicles, many companies, especially battery makers and EV firms, are setting up giga factories. Recently, Lucas TVS partnered with 24M to set up a giga factory near Chennai.

Hyundai Global Motors, Reliance New Energy Solar, Rajesh Exports and Ola Electric Mobility were recently selected for the production-linked incentive scheme for advanced chemistry cell (ACC) battery storage. The Ministry of Heavy Industries said the firms will receive incentives under a Rs 18,100 crore programme by the government to boost local battery cell production. Exide too bid for the scheme, but has been placed under a waiting list.

Crypto tax comes into force from today

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE new financial year brings some bad news to taxpayers - both individuals and corporates. Apart from the most talked-about 30% capital gains tax on cryptocurrencies, the new financial year brings to an end the additional tax incentive for buyers in affordable housing projects.

Income from sale of virtual digital assets (cryptocurrencies) will now be taxable at 30% effective from today. Further, crypto investors would not be able to set-off losses in one crypto asset against the gains from another.

The tax incentive in the form of a deduction of an additional ₹1.5 lakh to new home buyers will also come to an end from 1 April. The incentive was announced for interest paid by first-time home-buyers for loans taken for purchase of flats/houses with stamp value not exceeding ₹45 lakh.

"The period of sanction of the loan was extended from 31 March 2020 to 31 March 2021, and finally 31 March 2022 in the subsequent Finance Bills. There is no extension now granted," says Anita Basrur, Partner, Direct Tax, Sudit K Parekh & Co. LLP.

A TDS of 1% is applicable on transfer of immovable property above ₹50 lakh.

The TDS was deducted on consideration paid. From 1 April, TDS of 1% will be deducted on consideration or stamp duty value, whichever is higher. The practice of businesses/taxpayers claiming health and education cess as deduction will no longer be allowed from 1 April 2022.

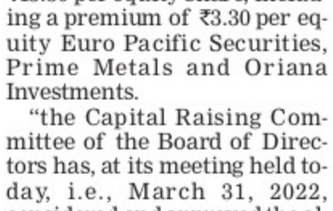
SC urges SpiceJet, Maran to settle dispute

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi



THE Supreme Court of India on Thursday urged SpiceJet and Kalanithi Maran, media-baron and former promoter of SpiceJet, to consider settling their share transfer dispute. The Top Court's remark came after ₹600 crore offered by SpiceJet was not accepted by Maran as he is seeking interest on this amount which is around ₹300 crore.

A Supreme Court bench headed by Chief Justice NV Ramana has now posted the case for hearing on April 12 and asked SpiceJet to consider paying interest amount to Maran.

The controversy between the current and former promoter of the struggling airline dates back to 2015 when Maran and KAL Airways had transferred their 58.46% stake in SpiceJet to Ajay Singh for a token amount of ₹2.

Under the agreement, KAL Airways and Maran were to receive redeemable warrants and preference share in return for the ₹679 crore which they spent on SpiceJet. Since then, the case has moved to the High Court, arbitration tribunal and now to the Supreme Court.

Meanwhile, SpiceJet on Thursday said it has settled its commercial dispute worth around $24 million with Swiss financial services company Credit Suisse.

"With regard to the dispute pending between Credit Suisse and SpiceJet Limited, we would like to inform you that the parties have now reached an in-principle commercial settlement of the dispute and the process of documentation is underway," SpiceJet said in a statement.

Govt fiscal deficit at 83% of FY22 target

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE central government's fiscal deficit reached ₹13.2 lakh crore in the 11-month period (April 2021 - February2022), taking a huge jump from ₹9.4 lakh crore at the end of January. This was largely on account of a massive ₹2.4 lakh crore devolution of taxes to states.

The fiscal deficit by February-end had touched 83% of the revised budget target of ₹15.9 lakh crore. However, it is still lower than ₹14.1 lakh crore in the same period previous year thanks to a 30.7% year-on-year growth in revenue receipt, and a moderate 10% growth in revenue expenditure.

"The release of a massive ₹2.4 lakh crore as central tax devolution to the states in the month of February 2022, by far the largest monthly release, contributed to a widening in the government's fiscal deficit between January 2022 and February 2022," says chief economist of ICRA Ltd Aditi Nayar.

The government's gross tax collection till February 2022 was ₹22.75 lakh crore, 37% more than collection in the corresponding period previous year. The government has set a target of ₹25.2 lakh crore, which it most likely would achieve.

However, the government is likely to miss the disinvestment target of ₹78,000 crore by huge margin. Till February 2022, the government has only collected ₹8,500 crore.

The fical deficit target for the current financial year is 6.8% of the GDP.

Meanwhile, the government on Thursday announced its borrowing plan for the first half of 2022-23.

Out of Gross market borrowing of ₹14.31 lakh crore estimated for 2022-23, ₹8.45 lakh crore is planned to be borrowed in the first half.

Core Sector growth at a four month high of 5.8%

The combined Index of Eight Core Industries grew 5.8% in February 2022, highest in four months, led by strong performances by sector such as coal, natural gas and refinery products. The production of Coal, Natural Gas, Refinery Products, Steel, Cement and Electricity industries increased in February 2022 over the corresponding period of last year. Natural gas registered a 12.5% year-on-year growth in February, followed by refinery products (8.8%) and coal (6%). However, Crude oil and fertilizer production registered a decline.

WeRize eyes $200 million run rate by 2025

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

FINANCIAL services platform WeRize, which focuses on small cities, aims to reach a $100 million revenue run rate in the next two years, and expects to double it- $200 million by the end of 2025.

The start-up has so far raised $10.25 million, including the latest Series A funding round, led by 3one4 Capital and Kalaari Capital, among others.

Started by former Lendingkart executives Himanshu Gupta and Vishal Chopra, the start-up is already operationally profitable. "Our annualised gross revenue run rate is $9 million. We are doubling our revenues every six months," Vishal Chopra, Co-founder and CEO, WeRize said. Most of its customers - who earn between ₹15,000 and ₹30,000 a month- are from small cities and do not have access to financial services such as credit, insurance and wealth offerings.

"Private sector banks would not engage with them given their focus on higher income customers in large cities. Our products are designed for customers who are living in small cities," said Chopra. One of the biggest challenges that this segment - almost 50 to 60 crore people across India including earners and family members - faces is their inability to get loans, he added. The start-up's focus is on middle and lower middle-income households in tier-2 to tier-4 cities such as Ludhiana, Surat and Salem.

Lucknow batters make Giants leap against CSK

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

CHENNAI Super Kings is known for giving players a long rope. They have never believed in the policy of constant chopping and changing. But in this edition of the IPL, CSK made three changes after their defeat in the first match, some forced and some tactical, while trying to get back to winning ways. Moeen Ali, Mukesh Choudhary and Dwaine Pretorius were drafted in. Adam Milne had a side strain and had to sit out. Devon Conway and Mitchell Santner were left out.

Put in to bat first by Lucknow Super Giants, Chennai got off to an excellent start with opener Robin Uthappa (50) putting his experience to effective use. Shivam Dube (49) played his role to perfection as CSK made 210 for seven in 20 overs on Thursday. However, that proved to be not enough as Lucknow batters stole the show to help team post a thrilling six-wicket win with three balls to spare. Openers Quinton de Kock (61) and KL Rahul laid the platform before Evin Lewis' brilliant 23-ball 55 ensured a win for the newcomers.

Lucknow began cautiously with both Rahul and De Kock at the helm. Left-arm seamer Mukesh Choudhary and Tushar Deshpande opened the new look attack for CSK. The pair's inexperience of bowling at this level was exploited both the batsmen as they scored runs at will.

CSK clearly missed the services of Deepak Chahar. Dwayne Bravo coming into the attack almost gave a breakthrough when he induced de Kock to play a false shot in the extra-covers where Moeen Ali dropped a sitter.

Earlier, Robin Uthappa straightway got into the act scoring boundaries off the first two balls from Avesh Khan, bringing excitement in the stands. Uthappa's experience and Gaikwad's presence set the mood for CSK. After the Maharashtrian ran himself out, Uthappa and Moeen made mince meat of the stingless Lucknow attack.

LSG's Evin Lewis hit a 23-ball 55 to help team beat CSK | SPORTSPICZ

Uthappa's flicks off Dushmantha Chameera, where the ball cleared the fence like a missile, were elegant and spoke of the Karnataka-born player's class. Uthappa's shot selection was spot on and he inspired Moeen to join the party as well. The southpaw displayed his flair for timing and ability to pick up the gaps at the expense of Krunal Pandya as the Baroda player conceded 14 runs in an over as Chennai finished the power play with 73 runs.

Uthappa, after notching up his 26th fifty in the IPL, fell leg before to a straighter one from Ravi Bishnoi. When it looked like Moeen (35) and Shivam Dube would stitch a big partnership, the former was castled by Avesh. Dube put his height to good use to pick the length early and carting the ball all over the ropes. They added 60 runs in 37 balls which set the platform for CSK to post a challenging score. In the end, Ravindra Jadeja, MS Dhoni helped CSK register their first 200-plus total of the season.

Brief scores: CSK 210/7 in 20 ovs (Uthappa 50, Bishnoi 2/24) lost to LSG 211/4 in 19.3 ovs (De Kock 61, Lewis 55 n.o, Rahul 40).

IPL

Knights seek revival vs Punjab

After starting their season opener with a win, Punjab Kings will take on Kolkata Knight Riders at Wankhede Stadium on Friday. A look at the key talking points ahead of the clash...

Bairstow, Rabada boost for PBKS

With Johnny Bairstow and Kagiso Rabada joining the squad, Mayank Agarwal will have the full-strength side at his disposal. If Bairstow adds to the firepower at the top, Rabada would be even more key in filling the chinks in the bowling department.

Mayank vs KKR spinners

It is no secret that Kolkata rely heavily on Varun Chakravarthy and Sunil Narine. But against Punjab, they will be up against one of the most prolific hitters of spin in Agarwal, who strikes at 151.54 against spinners in the last three seasons. This match-up would be crucial for both teams in determining the result.

Too many anchors at the top

Kolkata's well-known problem is that if Venkatesh Iyer and Ajinkya Rahane don't get them off to a flier, they have Shreyas Iyer and Nitesh Rana to follow, which would mean they might go into a shell as they did against RCB.

Treesa turns full attention to doubles category

MARTIN JOSEPH @ Kochi

"SINCE the Championship was in England, we thought it will be an opportunity to see some nice places and come back if we didn't get the entry and play," says Treesa Jolly, when asked about the lead-up to their historic run at the All England Open Badminton Championships.

Treesa and Gayatri Gopichand were listed as reserves and it was only after another pair pulled out that they got an opportunity to appear at one of the game's grandest stages. "We got to know one day before the matches began that we have got entry, and that was exciting. I guess we played without any pressure and expressed ourselves," she added.

And what began as a sightseeing opportunity in Birmingham turned into a fairytale story for the ages as Treesa and Gayatri walked straight into history books by becoming the first Indian pair to enter the semifinals at All England.

Their tryst with history saw the teenage pair stun World No 2 and World Championships silver medallists Lee Sohee and Shin Seungchan.

Treesa Jolly (L) & Gayatri Gopichand Pullela recently became first doubles pair from the country to reach the All England Open semifinals | AFP

"In the semifinal, we made a series of mistakes in the second game which didn't give us a chance to make a comeback. But the run at All England has given us so much confidence. From not knowing whether we'll even get to play and exceeding expectations, I think this provides us with a lot of motivation and confidence. I'm just 18 and Gayatri is 19 and such a result is great for the future," said Treesa.

Early into their partnership, the two had teamed up for the Polish International in 2021 and their potential was there for all to see as they finished runner-up at the event.

The year 2022 has been a breakthrough for Treesa and Gayatri. After being forced had to withdraw from India Open after the first round after Treesa tested positive for Covid, the duo bounced back by finishing runners-up at the Syed Modi International. They then went one step further at the Odisha Open by winning the doubles title in Cuttack.

"Playing these tournaments helped us as we got to play some quality opposition and that helped our rankings improve. I think what works for us is that I'm an attacking player and Gayatri is really good at the nets. The fact that we are good friends off the court also helps us have an understanding and rapport on court. All the results we produced in the last year or so have given the confidence to push ahead," she said.

Their steady rise has seen the pair rise to a world ranking of 35 in the women's doubles category and Treesa has already shifted attention to what's expected to be a big year ahead and reiterated that she now wants to focus mainly on the doubles category.

"Since I'm starting to produce results in doubles, I think that is the focus at the moment. And the run at All England has given me a lot of confidence when looking ahead. Even Gopichand sir said that it was important to take this confidence and build on it," she added.

Another quick win for Pegula

AP @ Miami Gardens

FORGET three-setters. These days, Jessica Pegula doesn't even need second sets.

The No 16 seed has made the semifinals at the Miami Open, benefiting from a second consecutive abrupt ending. She won her quarterfinal against fifth-seeded Paula Badosa on Wednesday, after the Spaniard retired five games into the first set.

Pegula has played four matches so far in this tournament, needing only 5 1/2 sets to record those victories. She had a first-round bye, won her next two matches in straight sets and her fourth-round match ended when unseeded Anhelina Kalinina retired after Pegula won the first set 6-0. Then came Wednesday, when Badosa bowed out down 4-1. "Of course, it's not nice to win that way," Pegula said. "It's the first time I've ever even hit with her at all and I was really looking forward to playing because she's been having an amazing year."

Badosa — who was No 71 in the world rankings at this time last year — will climb to a career-best No 3 when the computer numbers are updated Monday. She would have gone to No 2 had she beaten Pegula.

Badosa said she woke up Monday not feeling well and wasn't even sure she could play that day in a fourth-rounder against Linda Fruhvirtova. Badosa battled through, winning that match 6-2, 6-3, but was clearly not herself on Wednesday. "She's an incredible competitor," Pegula said. "I think we all saw that last round where she clearly wasn't feeling well and she was able to tough it out. I admire that a lot and hopefully next time we can both play when we're healthy and feeling good and have a great match."

Pegula was scheduled to face No 2 Iga Swiatek — who becomes No 1 in the world rankings next week — in Thursday night's semifinals. Swiatek ousted No 28 Petra Kvitova 6-3, 6-3 in the last women's quarterfinal. The other women's semifinal is Thursday afternoon, when No 22 Belinda Bencic will face unseeded Naomi Osaka.

Pegula has spent a total of 3 hours, 22 minutes on court in her four matches. That's only four minutes more than it took for the Buffalo Bills to beat the Miami Dolphins 35-0 at Hard Rock Stadium last September, a game Pegula knows a little something about — since her parents own the Bills.
